CONGRESS TO PROBE INDIAN LAND RIGHTS

Decide How Much Redskin Is to Profit from Oil Lands

SAY HE IS EXPLOITED

Congressional Debate Will Determine Status and Rights of Poor Lo

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1926 by The Post Pub. Co.
Washington—The American Indian is at last coming into his own. He is responsible for one of the most sensational situations that congress has had before it since Teapo. Dome stirred up a spirit of suspicion and investigation. For now it is proposed in a bill just reported to the house that 23,000,000 acres of valuable oil and gas areas shall be opened to development. Will the potential royalties of the Indian be taken from him in larger quantity than is customary in oil areas? The outcries of irregularity are beginning to be heard over the noise of other debate.

MADE A CITIZEN
In 1924 the Indian was declared by act of congress to be a citizen. Therefore he is beseeching congress for equal treatment with other citizens. He wants the right to go to court when right he does not now possess for the Indian Bureau of today still follows policy of past generations in regarding the Indian as in need of a guardian. The acts of the Indian Bureau are final and not subject to review. There has sprung up an Indian Rights association which declares the freedom of worship of the Indian, in fact his liberty is absolutely in the hands of the Indian Bureau and that abuses have occurred which demand a congressional investigation.

QUESTION OF PROPERTY
Entirely apart from the question of ill treatment, however, is the material problem of property rights. The Indian lands contain valuable mineral resources. While many wish to exploit these resources, the Indian Bureau has favored legislation whereby 37 1/2 per cent of the royalties from oil produced on Indian lands shall go to the state and exempting the oil producers from taxation. The friends of the Indian insist that the customary royalty for white men is about twelve and a half per cent and in rare instances goes up to twenty two per cent.

INDIAN IN DEBT
The Navajo Indians whose lands are involved have been in debt for several years. It is said that it would take seven years to get them out of it. Their funds have been obligated for by the government in the building of tourist bridges and other improvements. The house of representatives has struck out the 37 1/2 per cent royalty for the states and has given the Indian a better share but the friends of the Indian are afraid the same thing will happen next year that happened last session when the house kept out of the bill the obnoxious provisions only to have the senate tack them on and but for a point of order by Mr. Dallingier, the conference report would have carried. The Indian rights association hopes to be able, under the rules, to defeat hostile legislation.

There are, of course, good Indians and bad Indians. Strict laws to secure discipline and obedience are necessary for many but under the existing system the mandate of a government bureau is all-inclusive. The pending legislation would do one thing that the Indian has wanted: would establish beyond doubt his legal title to the property in dispute. Therefore it has been argued in the courts that by executive order he lands could be leased to anybody. Under Secretary Fall's regime this was done and there is a case before the supreme court of the United States to determine the validity of his action. By legislation what shall be done with the Indian's royalties, the question of property rights of the Indian is definitely established.

INDIANS FEAR LEGISLATION
Some of the legislation would retain a certain hold, nevertheless, on the Indian's possessions by making the estate reversionary by executive order. While no wholesale revocation would take place, the Indian leaders think this means a club will be held over them and that they will be subjected to intimidation constantly unless they dispose of their lands to the white man at the latter's prices, for political, by the people who seek oil lands for development and production are more powerful than the Indian.

Easter Finery Likely To Get Cold, Wet Reception

Chicago—(AP)—A white Easter, a wet Easter or a cold Easter, or combination of the three faced those sections of the country which have been buffeted the last week by a series of extraordinary spring terms. After a Saturday of rain and snow, the eastern half of the country looked forward to a clear Sunday, but with enough shift in the air to call for light overcoats as an adjunct to easter finery. A less favorable prospect faced the western areas where cloudy skies, cold weather, rain and snow were listed as Easter possibilities. Saturday the precipitation probably will be limited to an area including Michigan and eastern Indiana.

WETS MUSTER GUNS TO POUND VOLSTEAD LAW

Modification Forces Ready for Senate Hearing on Prohibition

Washington—(AP)—Wet leaders were busy Saturday rearranging their plans for the start of the senate prohibition hearings Monday in view of the judiciary sub-committee's refusal to summon other than government officials and the addition of a new amendment bill for tightening Volstead act restrictions to the subject matter to be discussed. The modification forces have been allotted the first week of the hearings to present their case and have asked the committee to call a number of city and state officials and others to testify. The drys will have the second week, and are expected to urge a favorable report on the drastic prohibition law amendments recommended by Assistant Secretary Andrews of the treasury. Instead of the liberalization measures on which the hearings were originally based.

Mr. Andrews, meanwhile, has issued two permits for the manufacture and sale of a medicinal wine which was in use for such purpose in pre-prohibition days. The names of the recipients of the permits were not announced, but it was asserted that like the malt tonic, for which permits were recently granted, too much of the medicinal wine probably would result in illness for any person ambitious to test its properties as a beverage.

TAXI DRIVER HELD UP BY THIEF IN MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee—(AP)—For the second time in as many nights a taxi cab fare has turned robber. Friday night a man answering the description of one who acted in an identical manner the night previous held up a cab driver and after taking his money, drove away with his cab, which was later located. The police have a complete description of the man.

CHAPMAN STILL CALM; HANGING 70 HOURS AWAY

Wethersfield, Conn.—(AP)—Gerald Chapman's appointment with death by way of Connecticut's new hanging machine which throttles the life out of a man with a double jerk was less than 70 hours away Saturday. The bandit spent Friday calmly reading and smoking cigarettes in his cell at state prison while his attorneys worked feverishly to save him from the ever near gallows. "One once did he betray any anxiety. That was after his attorney, Joseph M. Freedman, had spent 35 minutes with him. As he turned to leave, Chapman stopped him. "Will you be here tomorrow?" he asked, a plaintive note creeping into his voice. "I certainly will," Freedman said. "Chapman seemed relieved."

His staff of attorneys, who have carried his fight to escape the noose early Tuesday for the murder of patrolman James Skelly of New Britain to the U. S. Supreme Court, worked all Friday night developing new evidence by which they hoped to gain a new trial today.

But by Sunday the western portion of the middle plains area will participate in the downfall. But whether or not snow falls, most of the central districts will experience a white Easter as the snowstorms of the last few days have covered the territory with a mantle of white now giving way to a dingy grey. The second wave of the pre-Easter storm which came into the middle west from the Rocky Mountain region, had advanced northeastward into Illinois early Saturday. It brought precipitation to much of the central portion of the country Friday with a heavy snowfall in northern Missouri, southeastern Iowa and portions of Illinois. The temperature has begun to ascend in the middle Rockies, but unseasonably low mercury readings continue in the central districts.

Milwaukee—(AP)—Gay hats, spring coats and galoshes will mark the Easter parade here Easter Sunday unless another snow storm finds its way here in the meantime. The weather man has indicated that the snowstorm epidemic is past for the time after about an inch of fine snow visited the city Friday night and Saturday morning. There will be some sunshine tomorrow unless the fog bank from the lake works in over the city, and it is the hope of the weather bureau to keep things as nearly normal as possible. The temperature is expected to be 36 above Sunday.

Chicago—(AP)—Clear, cold weather over most of the great central west was the final Easter prophecy emanating Saturday from the Chicago district weather bureau. After the hours for the Easter parade, however, conditions will change, and even some of the district will not have perfect weather for the annual display of new finery.

In technical phraseology, this is the outlook: Mostly fair weather will prevail over Easter from the upper Mississippi valley eastward across Michigan and Indiana while thence westward across the northern and central plains area the weather will be more or less unsettled with precipitation likely in eastern portions of those areas or before Sunday night. Temperatures will be low for the season throughout the district, but a slight rise will occur Sunday in the extreme southern portion.

COP WEEPS AS HE DESCRIBES RAID

Policeman Admits Smashing Door of Restaurant Man Held for Murder

Madison—(AP)—Members of the Madison police force accused by counsel for Rudolph Jessor of improper conduct while patrolling Madison's "Little Italy" had another day in court late Friday when they were called by the state in rebuttal at Jessor's trial for first degree murder. Jessor is being tried for slaying Patrolman Palmer Thompson January 4. Denying most of the charges made by the defense witnesses who told of police patrols in the "bush" where Jessor's restaurant is located, Patrolman Lyman C. Mason, broke down and cried under the rigid cross examination of Attorney William Rubin. Defense counsel, Mason admitted former membership in the Ku Klux Klan and that he had used profane language in replying to Jessor when the latter followed him in an automobile. The patrolman admitted Jessor's charge that he smashed two doors in the restaurant with a sledge hammer in raising him, but said his action followed instructions of Phil Sanborn, former assistant district attorney, William Cassen, former member of the police force, admitted destroying wine recovered from a car from Rockford, Ill., which he searched without a warrant. He denied, however, that Mason took a pint bottle of whiskey from the same car and drank it.

MILWAUKEE COP FOUND GUILTY OF MISCONDUCT

Milwaukee—(AP)—Detective Sergeant Walter English of the Milwaukee police force, was found guilty of conduct unbecoming an officer by the police trial board, it was announced Saturday. It was recommended that he be dismissed from the force. His disposition of the matter rests with the chief of police.

FAMOUS ROUTE ENTERS CITY ON CHERRY ST

Expect Favorable Decision on Construction of Viaduct Next Week

Highway 15 will be rerouted over Memorial bridge on S. Cherry-st next summer, Mayor John Goodland, Jr., was informed Saturday morning by the state highway commission. Plans for diverting the route from the central part of the city were approved by the commission Friday at the monthly meeting at Madison.

This probably means that the railroad commission will approve the petition of the city for the construction of a viaduct on E. Wisconsin-ave where the thoroughfare crosses the tracks of the North Western railroad and the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power Co. In such an event, the state would become a party to the project and would have to stand part of the expense.

EXPECT DECISION SOON
A decision on the hearing held in this city before the railroad commission several months ago on the proposed viaduct is expected next week, according to Mayor Goodland. If the decision is favorable to the city, construction of the viaduct will be begun.

EIGHT BOMBS FALL IN CHINESE CITY AIR RAID

Peking—(AP)—The Tartar city, the northern section of Peking, was bombed Saturday morning by airplanes of the "allied" forces. Eight bombs were dropped in an attempt to hit the headquarters of Kuomintang, or national army.

Some houses were damaged, but no casualties are reported except the unconfirmed statement that one of the bombs killed a Chinese girl proceeding through the street in a bridal chair to her wedding.

One plane twice bombed the Kuomintang barracks at Nanyuan, outside the city, causing a panic among the Chinese residents of that town. Hundreds of foreigners and tens of thousands of Chinese watched the raid on the Tartar city, which began about 10:30 Saturday morning. The airplanes used were of a large modern pattern, and had been fitted with bomb releasing apparatus, although they were supplied to the Chinese for purely commercial purposes.

Atheist Would Refuse To Pay Chaplains In Congress

Washington—(AP)—A petition for injunction to prevent payment of the salaries of chaplains of the senate and house and of all clerics attached to the war and navy departments was filed in District of Columbia supreme court today. James I. Elliott, member of the recently chartered American Association for the Advancement of Atheism, is the plaintiff, and Frank White, treasurer of the United States is named defendant. The petition sets forth that "the employment of chaplains in the congress of the United States in the department of the navy and the department of war constitutes the promotion and establishment of religious and sectarian views and objects in violation of article 1 of the constitution, which provides that 'Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof.'"

"Chaplains employed in these departments of the government are ecclesiastics engaged in the performance of a religious duty not authorized and expressly prohibited by the constitution" the petition claims, "and the compensation authorized under appropriation acts of congress is a diversion of the funds of the United States for a purpose not within the delegated powers of congress to legislate upon." The plaintiff prays the court to enjoin the treasurer of the United States from paying the salaries of the chaplains and to forbid future acts of congress declaring null and void the acts of congress under which such salaries are authorized. He urges that he as a taxpayer, and all other citizens of the United States will "suffer irreparable damage" if the salaries are paid, "out of the moneys in the treasury of the United States, contrary to the constitution."

PEACHES' PA O, K.'S UNION WITH BANKER

Second Cinderella Says She Is Marrying Browning for Love

New York—(AP)—Frances "Peaches" Heenan, 15-year-old school girl, who has announced her engagement to Edward W. Browning, wealthy real estate operator, has her father's consent to the marriage. Various city agencies, however, are continuing to investigate several aspects of the romance.

The mystery of acid burns which Frances suffered about the face and left hand a week ago is one thing under investigation. Mr. Browning spent two hours Friday with police in an effort to determine how the girl received the injuries. He was cold to suggestions that she may have burned herself, and he expressed the opinion that an unidentified assailant poured acid on her as she slept. He maintained silence on reports that he will marry Frances some time after her sixteenth birthday, June 23, but Frances, herself, swathed in bandages made the announcement "to correct the impression that I am an adventuress."

"Daddy," as she calls Mr. Browning, is improving a 135 acre Long Island estate for their use, she said. "I am not marrying Mr. Browning for his money nor for a career," she said, "I am a home loving person and I want an intellectual companionship with a man with whom I can feel safe." William Heenan, Frances' father, an automobile salesman, separated from his wife nine years ago, will not stand in the way of his daughter's happiness, he says. His daughter doesn't like boys "because they get too fresh" and Mr. Browning has always been a gentleman, he said.

WEATHER TO BE FAIR FIRST PART OF WEEK

Washington—(AP)—Weather outlook for the week beginning Monday: Region of the Great Lakes: Mostly fair Monday and Tuesday except snow flurries over east portion Monday; considerable cloudiness and probably occasional rains over south, and snow or rains over north portion. Middle and later parts, temperatures below normal Monday and Tuesday and probably near normal thereafter.

MILWAUKEE GUARDS CITY MILK SUPPLY

Milwaukee—(AP)—Additional inspectors have been added by the city health department to determine definitely that no milk reaches the city of Chicago finds its way into the supply of this city. Dr. Stanley Pilgrim, of the city health department, said Saturday there is little chance of any of the milk in question reaching Milwaukee consumers. "We are making careful checks of every new source of milk supply. If there are new dairymen making deliveries, we know at once and make the necessary checks," he said.

Frances Heenan, another blonde, is the newest protegee—and may be bride—of Edward W. Browning, who attempted to adopt Mary Louise Spas last fall as a "modern Cinderella." Wedding bells may sound in June, when Francis' father, meanwhile police are hunting the person who threw acid on her while she slept recently.

FEDERAL COURT BREAKS COMBINE

Two Billion Dollar Bread Corporation Dissolved by Decree in Anti-trust Case

Baltimore—(AP)—The Ward Food products corporation incorporated under Maryland laws with an assessed capitalization of $2,000,000,000, is ordered to dissolve within thirty days and surrender its charter to the state, under a consent decree issued by Judge Morris A. Soper in Federal District court Saturday. The decree provides also that the capital stock of the General Baking corporation shall be decreased, and orders complete separation of the Ward Baking corporation, the General Baking corporation, and the Continental Baking corporation.

The decree is the outgrowth of a petition in equity filed by the government against seven corporations and eight individuals last Feb. alleging a "huge combination in the baking industry." Answers filed on March 24 and April 1 by the accused corporations and individuals uniformly denied the government allegations, declaring a monopoly as described to be render impracticable by the nature of the industry.

The cases never came to trial, and Saturday's decree, entered with the consent and knowledge of the accused corporations, is expected to end the litigation.

U. S. DECIDES TO KEEP ENVOY FROM GENEVA

Court Members May Communicate Direct With Washington Officials

TEN MEMBERS IN COUNCIL
World Tribunal Will Try to Reach Agreement With United States

Geneva—(AP)—News that President Coolidge opposes American participation in the proposed Geneva conference on the senate's world court reservations caused surprise and regret in league of nation circles. The league has not been informed of Mr. Coolidge's attitude other than through the press dispatches, but it is said that should the United States decline to send a representative to the Geneva conference, the conference will be held anyway. It is admitted that some states may decline to follow the suggestion of the league council which summoned the conference and negotiate directly with Washington regarding the American reservations. The court signatories are free to do this, if they wish, as the council merely made its suggestion as the best way of handling the situation. The ten governments reported in the council's committee are expected to attend since they agreed to Sir Austen Chamberlain's resolution of "convocation and it is believed enough of states will agree to the suggestion to make the conference a possibility. The league officials reiterated to day that the league merely wishes to prove helpful in reaching a satisfactory agreement concerning the conditions attached to America's adherence to the court.

WILL SEND NOTE
Washington—(AP)—A note declining the League of Nations invitation to the world court conference at Geneva will be forwarded early next week by Secretary Kellogg.

BRITISH REPEL ATTACK BY 2,000 TRIBESMEN

Bagdad, Iraq—(AP)—Two thousand Syrian and Arab tribesmen have been repelled by British forces. The tribesmen planned a surprise attack on troops of the Kingdom of Iraq, guarding the frontier. Learning of the intended force the British, who hold the mandate over Iraq, brought up armored cars to reinforce the native guard.

When the tribesmen swept across the frontier, bent upon quickly scattering King Faisal's men, they were quickly thrown into disorder as the guns in the British armored cars began to bark, and the machine guns were opened on them. To add to their discomfort, British airplanes carried out bombing operations. The tribesmen fled in disorder. They left 45 dead on the field. Many of their wounded were taken away in their retreat.

The British say that prior to the attack they instructed the Iraq guard not to begin hostilities when the tribesmen appeared. After the tribesmen were defeated, the British prevented the Iraq guard from pursuing them across the frontier.

ATTACK ON U. S. HEAD BARS ROSS FROM GREEN BAY

Green Bay—(AP)—An announcement was made today that the Green Bay Rotary and Kiwanis clubs have cancelled an invitation to Prof. E. A. Ross, head of the department of sociology of the University of Wisconsin to address a joint meeting of the clubs here Thursday, April 8. It is stated that the reason for this action is the recent attack by Prof. Ross on the President of the United States, made at a political meeting in Madison. It was further stated that the withdrawal of the invitation has nothing to do with Prof. Ross' criticisms of Mr. Coolidge's policies.

CONGO CHURCH IN WISCONSIN HAS 35,000 MEMBERS

Net Gain of 746 Over Last Year, Annual Report States

MADISON—(CP). The Wisconsin Congregational conference embracing 230 churches has 35,267 men and women enrolled, an increase of 746 over the previous year, according to a statement by Superintendent Theodore D. Daville.

The conference has 156 ministers, of whom 111 are serving churches. Their average salary, Mr. Daville estimates, is $2,650.15, including students and other part-time workers. Eliminating these, he figures the average congregational minister in Wisconsin earns $2,750.

The 230 congregational churches in Wisconsin are divided as follows: Installed pastors, 160; Licensed pastors, 4; other pastors, 160; Lectors, 71; supplies, and vacant, 27. Two churches were added during the year and three were dropped, a net loss of one.

While 2,754 members were added, death took 743 during the year. In addition, 1,126 were taken from the church. The church has almost twice as many men as women. The total membership is 35,267, of whom 17,512 are men and 17,755 are women. The churches include 20,000 families.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LOSSES
Sunday schools had a total membership of 7,011, a loss of 918 members from the year previous. The 198 young people societies with a combined membership of 1,012 reported an increase of 455.

Wisconsin Congregational churches have $20,000 in 1925 expenditures, despite a decrease of $1,700. The churches, however, raised $2,283 for home extension, a net gain over the previous year of $2,154. The value of property of the churches of the state is figured at $1,849,758, an increase of $252,450 over 1924.

The churches benefited to the extent of $1,750 in church libraries in 1925. Some 1,000 copies of the large new book, "The Bible in the Church," were given to the churches. Other gifts were 151 Bibles, $16,500 given by the Wisconsin Synod, $10,000.

The churches pay a total of $207,222 for the salaries of their ministers, an increase of $1,000. Several cities granted increases during the past year, the largest being a $1,000 increase to the pastor of the Kenosha congregational, now receiving $4,000. Other parishes increasing the pastor's salary were Amery, Black Earth, Columbus, Green Bay, Hayward, Kenosha, La Crosse, New London, North Milwaukee, Lake Geneva, Racine, Plymouth, Rhinelander, Ripon, Sheboygan, Watertown. Second church, Beloit, Pleasant church, Madison; First church, Oshkosh.

Busses Resume Operations as Sun and Men Dig Out Deep Drifts

Most main roads in the vicinity of Appleton were reported to be open and in fairly good condition Saturday.

All the busses were operating, it was said, except on the Appleton-Black Creek road beyond Seymour. The road is still blocked beyond that point which prevented the busses from getting to Appleton.

Highway 15 to Green Bay was good except at McCarthy crossing. The going is hard for a quarter mile past the grade crossing it was said.

The bus to New London was reported to be running on scheduled time. Warm slants of sunshine would soon put the roads afloat, it was averred by bus drivers. Highway 29 to Clintonville was reported to be open, although there is a bad spot on that highway between New London and Hortonville.

Highway 75 is open. It was the good work of a sturdy snow-plow that cleared the way through highways 26 and 75 between Appleton and New London.

BOEHM, UNDER PRISON CLOUD, WANTS PARDON

Judge Told Application for Clemency Will Be Filed With Governor

Application for a pardon for Anton Boehm, Calumet Harbor, who was sentenced to a year in the state prison at Waupun on Oct. 26, 1925 when he was found guilty of running down and seriously injuring Benjamin Beshta on July 11, and failing to stop and give aid to the injured man, will be filed on April 21, according to notice served on Municipal Judge Theodore Berg Thursday by Keller and Keller, Boehm's attorneys. Boehm is free on $1,500 bail pending an appeal to the Supreme court made by A. H. Krugmeier, formerly his attorney, immediately after his sentence. He has not served any of his sentence and his appeal has not yet been acted on by the higher court. Beshta was arrested by Boehm's car after he had alighted from a street car at E. North and N. Morrison st. He suffered a broken ankle and injuries to his face and head and his condition delayed trial of the case all last summer. A damage suit brought by Beshta against Boehm was adjourned and Beshta pleaded for a light sentence for the defendant.

The Sealed Chassis "Shower Bath," displayed last week in many Buick showrooms, furnished striking proof of Buick dependability.

It may be difficult to believe that any motor car chassis could run under its own power for a solid week, with water hitting it in a drenching shower.

But the Buick chassis did it. Water cannot get in, dirt cannot reach Buick operating parts. Even the electrical wiring is sealed inside water-proof, fire-proof, flexible tubing.

Buick is ready for any road and any weather, thoroughly prepared to give Buick owners thousands and thousands of care-free, trouble-proof miles.

Only a Buick could possibly stand the "Shower Bath" test. Buick, alone, has the Sealed Chassis with the Triple-Sealed Engine!

you can count on keeping it years longer than other cars

Do away with vibration—cut friction to a fraction—abolish carbon troubles and valve grinding—and you add years to the life of your car.

In the poppet-valve engine, it is the pounding of cams against push-rods, the contact of push-rods on rocker-arms, the recoil of valves under coiled springs that cause vibration.

In the sleeve-valve engine Willys-Knight there is no pounding of metal upon metal. The Knight engine is simplicity itself. It consists of but two metal sleeves operating with a gliding motion. No vibration. No friction. Simply two single sleeves working smoothly, silently, up and down, one within the other, in a constant film of oil—and that is all!

Carbon, too, shortens the life of the poppet-valve engine. The only remedy is valve-grinding. And this assembling-and-tearing-down process weakens the engine every time it is performed.

Carbon troubles cannot exist—there is no valve-grinding—with the sleeve-valve engine Willys-Knight. The unique principle of this patented engine provides that carbon only serves to seal compression and prevent power-waste. Instead of weakening, it literally gives this car added years of life and usefulness. Instead of harming, as it does all other engines, it actually helps the Knight engine to perform!

The new WILLYS FINANCE PLAN means less money down, lower monthly payments; and the lowest credit-cost in the industry.

Prices from $1750 to $2495. We reserve the right to change prices and specifications without notice.

A REAL DANGER TO THE FARMER

From early days, perhaps the very start, quacks of various shades and colors have mixed in with ordinary, normal people and fed off the misfortunes, ailments, ignorance or superstitions of the rest.

We have had the medical quack in great masses, perhaps because of the numerous ills and sicknesses is so common to mankind. These quacks profess an ability they do not possess, promise a cure or remedy beyond their means to provide, fish from some pale and coughing person his last twenty dollar bill for a worthless remedy.

We have had too the political quack,
usually with round voice and deep chest, claiming to understand the intricate affairs and principles of government that he never took the time to study, or studying could not comprehend. The political quack generally has an issue or a hoax or a bug-a-boo with which to frighten and keep voters in line and their attention focused elsewhere lest they see through his sophistry and worthlessness. He thunders loudly of "rights" and "principles" and violates them all. His figure is familiar in Wisconsin.

Whether it be sickness of the person or an ailment of government, the quack is always offering his services in the expectation that the condition will bring to his pockets a little lucre. Were there no money to be had he wouldn't interest himself for a minute. His purpose is plain and conscious. He must deceive the man with a complaint into believing that he can be of assistance, then part him from some money and go away in a shower of promises.

The tubercular cattle question before the farmers in Wisconsin is opening up another fertile field for the quacks. Some of them may appear with twenty or thirty initials after their names when a capital "Q" is only necessary.

The question of tubercular infection,
the tests to ascertain it, the transmission of the disease, the means to avert it, are all scientific questions concerning which it is best not to engage the services or take the advice of any but those who understand their business. Medical science has its faults, errors, uncertainties, but it is honest and doing its best. Since 1899 it has lengthened the average life of man nearly twenty years. That is some proof of its efficiency.

The farmers of Wisconsin have enough troubles without the infliction of this last —but they must remember that misfortunes cannot be cured with ignorant remedies. Such medicines only make a bad condition worse.

SCIENCE AND IMMORTALITY

Immortality is not a religious doctrine.
It is a great human interest, in which science and religion have equal interest.
But thus far science has failed to contribute much to the solution of the problem because it lies outside the realm of the scientific method. Science depends upon observed facts and, as yet, no traveler has ever returned from the grave who gave us the necessary facts upon which to base adequate or accurate judgments.

Science can, and science does, make the belief in immortality appear reasonable. Analogies, deductions, inferences and hypotheses are used by science to set up a strong case for the popular belief in immortality. Great scientists have believed in the idea—Louis Pasteur, Sir Isaac Newton, Benjamin Franklin, Co-pernius, Galileo and Sir Oliver Lodge being conspicuous examples.

But science has not always waited for the full quota of facts to set out on new trails. Louis Pasteur, having discovered the microbe origin of many diseases, set out to find a cure for rabies but he could not find the germ that caused the disease.
Nevertheless, without knowing the identity of the trouble making germ he produced a cure and the germ has never yet been found. But the cure works!

Science gave Pasteur the clue as to the direction in which to look for a cure. Even without all the facts he found it. Science can give to faith the clue as to the direction in which to look for evidence in support of the belief in immortality. And faith, looking, has followed onto sublime hopes and profound convictions. And the belief works.

Men, believing that the known life has a determining effect upon the unknown life, turn frivolity into seriousness and carelessness into character. The doctrine of immortality is worth saving at any cost. It lends dignity, worth, seriousness, purpose, moral weight, eternal value and righteous judgment to human life.
Science can do no more!

CONSCIENCE, THE LASH

The third degree, denounced as it is by humanitarians, often functions well in solving crime. The swishing terror of the cat-o-nine tails breaks down many a hardened criminal's stout front. But there is a tiny voice within us that is more powerful than any whipping post could be—the cry of an outraged conscience.

There died in a Denver hospital recently a man who for more than half a century had struggled with that inner voice and who finally lost the battle. The secret he carried for fifty years was the brutal attack on a young Ohio girl, her murder, and to crown it all, the inflaming of a mob that hung two innocent men.

What a horrible thought to carry day after day for all those fifty years! The sudden flaming passion of a drunken night, a mutilated body on a vacant lot, the protesting screams of innocence of the two men as they went to that awful gibbet that he had devised! The stigma of dishonor that hovered like a shadow over the families of his victims!

The world mourns and forgets, but the voice that never sleeps remembers. The voice pursued him, made of him a rover, a tramp, an outcast, guilty in the sight of all men, a crouching fiend. There were the pictures in his mind. No liquor could erase them, no drug, no new cities, no mad pleasures—only death.

Constantly raging within him was the struggle between his fear of the noise, his shame, and that stinging voice. A man alone, a recluse from any affection the world could give, hating himself, hating his fear yet too weak to raise his head and call for justice.

After fifty years the hour comes to lie down and die. That torturing cry in his mind follows him there, goads him, curses him, calls him coward. Finally it is unendurable, and at the fearful climax he confesses, at the hour of going upon the great adventure, his lips open and conscience blunts out its sin.

The ways of punishing crime are many,
but the pictures in a guilty man's mind are more terrible than the rack.

TODAY'S POEM

By HAL COCHRAN

How many friends have you really got, you, how many friends do you know? Just how do you tell just who is, or not, and how does real friendship grow?

A fellow will claim he's a friend of yours and his greeting for you is a smile. He feels that that one little thing assures that he is a friend worth while.
You only may see him when things are o-k and you carry no troubles to sift. But suppose things change on the very next day: is he ready to give you a lift?

Expressions of sympathy, loans, now and then, will often give folks a new start. A friend sets you pluggin' all over again when your own backing hasn't the heart.

The answer to friendship is simple, at best: It's something that's easy to rum. I'll hang to the fellow, and pass all the rest, who's for me whatever may come.

It is dangerous for a chicken to cross the road.
But not so dangerous as for a ditch to cross.

First thing to do when you reach camp is line up all the bugs and make them wash their feet.

If you could teach gold fish to sing they would be fine canary birds.

Maybe you could outfit a gold fish with a set of false teeth and teach him to catch rats.

And if a gold fish had false teeth you could kick him out the door for chewing your slippers.

Canary birds are awful loafers. They should knit socks or play checkers like firemen do.

Perhaps the most troublesome pet in the world is an alarm clock.

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writer's names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

MEDDLING WITH THE DIET

Frequently some well misinformed reader takes me severely to task or complains to the editor because I have failed to lay down a diet for his case or for some general disease condition. "I didn't ask or expect a prescription for I am aware that a doctor cannot prescribe without examining the patient.
I merely requested advice about the diet."
A doctor can as well give advice about the diet, prescribe a diet, tell what the patient should eat or should not eat, as he can give any other prescription for a particular case or for a general disease condition. This is the difficulty—well misinformed people harbor a fancy that the food question is susceptible to a cut and dried solution, even though they have learned the foolishness of meddling with either remedial agencies, such as medicines or surgical procedures. No doubt it is rather as a consequence of this popular misconception of the food question than as a cause of it that there is so much humbug and quackery practiced upon the great Wissenschaft family by plausible merchants who call themselves food specialists.

A California neuter asks for "a diet for the blood for eczema please name best vegetables and fruits allowed and also things that should not be eaten."
Being an honest newspaper man and not a doctor trying to keep a patient's confidence, I can only say I know of no diet which would be advisable for all who have eczema, and I know of no particular reason for the occurrence of eczema in adults.

Probably the lady is still more or less enamored of those quaint old "diet lists" our medical forefathers used to distribute—one column of items the patient "may eat" and another column of items the patient "may not eat." I believe some of the life insurance companies that go in for the practice of certain lines of medicine peddle such lists among their unfortunate patrons. But that kind of empirical dietetics is as obsolete as the mustache cur-
"dieting" and it is a pity to see only one thing to the mind of the dumber—an attempt to reduce weight. If weight is to be reduced by any modification of the individual's eating habit it must be effected through the reduction of the total nutriment consumed, and there are numerous plans by which this is accomplished, not one of them safe or advisable for a young person except under the personal supervision of the physician. The height of absurdity is reached when the dumber imagines she can reduce by eating certain brands of bread-
—the so-called "diet bread." The secret of the occasional reduction a dumber obtains while eating the mysterious bread is, of course, the general restriction of her total food consumption—suggestions about that come free with each loaf of the trick bread.

When any correction or change of the eating habit it is to be made it should be made by the advice of the physician who knows the requirements in the individual circumstances.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Can Happen

Do you know of any good remedy for eczema, or do you consider eczema an imaginary or mythical condition? (Mrs. T. J.)

Answer—You will do me a lot of good and at the same time delight some thousands of members of your family, Mrs. T. J., if you will mention any disease entity which I have called imaginary or mythi-cal. I should be glad to send some helpful advice about the management of eczema to any parent who has a child subject to eczema. Include with your request a stamped envelope bearing your address.

---that's all there is to life

LIFE
Just what are we striving for, here on this earth? Why is it we all love to live? Are things that we're getting, from day to day, worth as much as the things that we give?

Take selfishness, hatred and envy and such—what happiness comes from their lot? You know very well that they'll never bring you much of whatever cheer that you've got.
But love and real friendship, and all things akin. Keep spirit, that's brightest, outstanding. Their part of our living lets real sunshine in—the thing that we're always demanding.
The love of all life is the brotherly brand, and we come whenever we form it. "Twice better the world when we all understand that happiness lives as we make it."

After looking over a flock of youngster's waists—now we know where all the buttons come from.

SEIZ THE WIFE: "I simply can't go—because I haven't a thing to wear."

A man gives his wife money to buy decent clothes—and then she goes and invests in the latest styles.

He found his brilliant diamond ring
Was paste, and did he bother?
Why, sure—it dawned on him that he
Was out a half a dollar.

NOW, HONESTLY
We're all entitled to wonder as we see fit—so I wonder if it really is a good idea to thrash out an argument with a child, with a thrasher.

In other words, do a few good whacks, in the proper place convince a youngster that a wrong is a wrong—and make him want to do right the next time?

If the answer is "yes"—then the child does right the next time—he cause he's afraid to do wrong. And what have you gained? Made a coward out of him.

It's a good rule that works both ways. Why not try laying the rule aside—and explaining why wrong is wrong, and why right is right.

TEACHER: Never say, "I ain't going to the party." Always say, "I am not going!" (And to impress her point, she added) He is not going.
She is not going. They are not going. Now do you understand?

SCHOLAR—Sure! The party's a failure.

SOUTH AMERICA
BADLY LACKING
IN GOOD ROADS

American Delegates to Buenos Aires Highway Congress Finds Auto Touring Scarce

BY FREDERICK J. HASKIN
Washington, D. C. — Imagine the city of New York without a single hard surfaced highway leading out of it.

Imagine Detroit as days away from Toledo by road, Chicago as cut off from the rich agricultural areas of Illinois, and Los Angeles as susceptible of approach from San Francisco only by railroad or steamship.

Thus do members of the United States delegation to the recent Pan-American highway congress in Buenos Aires conjure up the picture of transportation conditions in South America where by the greater part of the highway mileage is passable only in dry weather.

Unlike Europe with its systems of highways laid out far in advance of motor or steam transportation, says
H. H. Rice, chairman of the delegation, and unlike the United States with its network of highly efficient railroads, the countries of South America are inadequately supplied with transportation means of any kind.

The railroads which exist have been pushed through at great expense and only after severe hardships. They are the backbone of internal communication and yet develop the "virgin areas, nor is there capital available to build extensions which would not, generally speaking, be immediately profitable.

SERVE RAILROADS
"The great need," continues Mr.
Rice, "is a system of highways and highway transport which will serve to extend the economic zone of the railroads, give the rural districts a means of communication with city markets, and provide ways of penetration into the almost inexhaustible areas of natural resources of every kind and description."

To the fulfillment of that task
there will be necessary the formation of trained highway organizations similar to those we have, the gradual working out of rational systems of highway finance, and from a material standpoint, enormous supplies of all the machinery and materials which are an integral part of highway transportation."

In traveling about 15,000 miles through the more important South American countries the delegates from the United States found only one real highway system. This was in the comparatively few miles of good roads which have been constructed out through the fertile coffee fields that surround the city of Sao Paulo, Brazil.

The importance of this system is shown by the fact that out of 16,000 cars assembled last year by one

REO "That's the New Reo"

This statement, frequently heard these days, distinguishes one of the most attractive looking cars in many seasons, from the ranks of the ordinary run of motor cars.

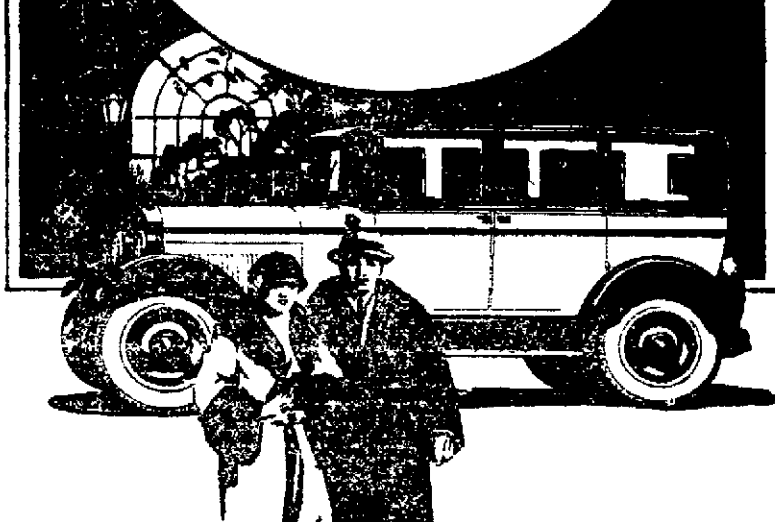

For many people who have learned to think of Reo only in terms of dependability and great mechanical worth, the New Reos are a revelation.

KAUKAUNA GETS
ANOTHER TRAINAshland Division Service Improved by Addition of Passenger Train

Kaukauna—Kaukauna will have new passenger train service on the Ashland division starting Sunday morning, April 4, when Train No. 141 will leave here at 7:45 for Antigo, arriving there at 12:05 P. M. It will leave Antigo at 4:15 Sunday afternoon on the return trip as Train No. 56 and will arrive at Kaukauna at 8:06 in the evening. This train formerly served out of Appleton and tied up at Appleton again in the evening. But now the run has been extended to Kaukauna. On week days the train will be known as No. 129 and will leave Kaukauna at 10 o'clock in the morning and will go to Marshfield instead of Antigo. It will arrive at Marshfield at 4:20 in the afternoon. Train No. 128 will leave Marshfield at 2:35 in the afternoon and arrive in Kaukauna at 8:06 in the evening.

These four trains will give Kaukauna passenger service to the north in the morning and from the north in the evening. The train will pick up milk cars on its trip north and will set them off at Appleton Junction to be picked up by an express train. In past years these trains were run out of Appleton Junction only during the winter, but now account of the heavy milk business it is necessary to run them all year around.

Easter Day

WHAT joy there is on Easter Day: for That which it commemorates and signifies.

And with the sweet breath of a new Springtime season, what gladness the Day's coming brings.

We all have good cause, indeed, to be happy and to wish all others a happy, happy Easter: for joy reigns supreme because 'tis Easter and the World is Renewed.

Naught but cheer is in the very air, and belongs in the hearts of each and every one of us.

But let us not fail to pay proper tribute to Him and His Resurrection in the fullest sense and manner befitting the Day's great Event: for only then will it be truly a Happy Easter, as it should be.

SMALL ADDING MACHINE ADDS TO EFFICIENCY

Time and Energy Saved by Adding Machine for Every Desk in Office

One of the greatest time savers and producers of efficiency in a large business office where it is necessary for the employees to total a great many figures lies a portable Corona adding machine for every desk. Thoughtful men with a sharp eye for efficiency know that time and money is being lost when employees have to leave their desks several times a day to use the office adding machine. This is especially true in a very large office where the machine is apt to be in use when wanted thus making it necessary to stand around and wait one's turn.

The Corona adding machine, which is sold here at the Nelson's Typewriter Sales and Service Co., located on the second floor of the Spector-Bldg. combines all the attractive features of the larger adding machines with the added advantage of being small and easy to handle and very much cheaper. The local company has found that the price of the machine has placed it well within the reach of the owners of both large and small businesses.

Proprietors of small stores and others who formerly felt that the use they would have for an adding machine would not warrant the price they would have to pay for any of the larger makes are now turning to the Corona in large numbers and in so doing are saving hours formerly spent in laborious and brain racking bookkeeping work.

The Corona adding machine which was invented by Glenn J. Barrett has many important features of convenience to operators. They are total key, subtotal key, repeat key, correction key, non-print key, non-add key, column control keys, flexible key board and portability. In addition the key board is condensed, which means the shortest route from key to key and the least movement of the hand; therefore the least space to cover and the least time required. Practically all the operative movements on the Corona are made with the right hand, leaving the left free to turn pages or to follow down a column of figures. Additional information about the Corona adding machine may be obtained at the Nelson's Typewriter Sales and Service Co.

The Nelson company cleans and repairs every make of typewriter. Reserve machines are kept on hand at the shop so that persons who bring their typewriters in for repair will be supplied with a substitute machine while the work is being done.

Most people give very little care or attention to their typewriters and some never think of brushing or oiling them, said Mr. Nelson. Just as long as the machine runs the owner does not seem to care about anything else, but when the typewriter gets into such a condition through lack of care and neglect that when it balks the owner is usually much provoked and says that he would like to find a machine that would really give service. Some people let their typewriters go for three or four years without paying the least bit of attention to them except for an occasional hasty dusting off which only improves the exterior appearance and in no way helps the worn out and sadly abused mechanism inside.

AMERICAN MEN LACK PHYSICAL STRENGTH

Berkeley, Calif., (AP)—Although college students have a fairly high degree of physical fitness, as a whole "American men are unprepared to meet the common physical emergencies and demands of life."

This is the conclusion of F. L. Kleiber, chairman of the department of physical education of the University of California.

"The inability of most of our young men of today to use the power of their arms, shoulders and middle body is surprising," he states. "The danger from this is greater to the race than the loss in the power of navigation creditable to the automobile."

Brain matter cannot be built by physical exercise, Kleiber believes, but he thinks the present generation should be developed sufficiently to enable a man to act quickly and accurately in case of an emergency.

SURPRISED DOG

Real Estate Mortgages Make Good Investment

Rabson Park, Florida — Roger W. Rabson today presents the sixth of his ten articles entitled "Family Investment Talks." This week he treats of local real estate mortgages. His complete statement is as follows:

"When all the classes of investment are considered probably local real estate mortgages have the best record of any. In saying this, however, I must emphasize the word local which means mortgages in one's own city or town. When all mortgages are considered, the percentage of loss is probably as large as in many other forms of investment. This is due to the fact that when money is sent away to distant cities to be invested for mortgages, at high rates of interest, the percentage of loss is considerable. Yet it is strange how people are willing to take risks in mortgages on property that they have never visited when they are not willing to take good mortgages in their own home towns. I do, however, repeat that losses are very small on local mortgages, that is, mortgages on property in your own city or town especially when you know the owner of the property. The only important thing to remember when taking local mortgages is that you should take them on homes in which the owner lives rather than on property that is rented. A man continually improves a house in which he lives if he is the owner thereof. Unfortunately, this is not true in the case of tenants. By all means beware of mortgages on speculative property unless the mortgage is very great. Losses that may be incurred during the next few years will be on houses built for speculation not on houses built for the owner's use."

"The one objection to having a mortgage on the home is the disagreeable feature of foreclosure in case the owner is permanently disabled or dies suddenly in debt. It is always an unpleasant thing to foreclose a house mortgage, but this is usually in connection with the sudden death or accident which of itself is unfortunate. This becomes all the more awkward when the home is that of a friend or relative. This accounts for the proverb among mortgage brokers, 'Go to strangers for money, friends for advice, and your relatives for nothing.' On the other hand, this disadvantage to local mortgages on homes can be well taken care of at low expenses by insurance policies. Hence, when taking a mortgage on a home, unless the owner has a little nest egg, I advise that the owner be requested to take out an insurance policy to the value of the mortgage and deposit this as additional security. Such an insurance policy does not cost much and is really a splendid thing for all concerned. Then if the owner dies or is permanently disabled, the insurance policy will take care of the mortgage and the house can be turned over free of any indebtedness to the widow. In a previous article I advised against the hypochondriac of insurance policies for debts and I still feel that way concerning insurance policies which take care of the mortgage on the home of the family. I stated, however, that there are exceptions, and here is an exception—a case where the insurance policy is taken out, not to buy an automobile or to open a grocery store—but to protect the mortgage on the home."

WHERE TO GET MORTGAGES
If you have never taken a local mortgage, perhaps the easiest way to tell the treasurer of your bank is that you would like to loan a certain amount of money on a home, and state the amount. Of course, the banks best informed on mortgages are savings banks, trust companies, cooperative banks, and building and loan associations; which four classes of institutions make a specialty of real estate mortgages. The difficulty, however, of going to such banks is that they are on the watch for good mortgages themselves, and hence are not anxious to turn over to their customers any mortgage, especially when the customer is to draw the money out of the bank to take the mortgage. Therefore you can perhaps be better served by going to a national bank or state bank which takes only a few mortgages. If you do not get good results from your local bank then go to some real estate broker who advertises to place mortgages. In dealing with such a real estate agent, however, have it clearly understood that you pay him no commission and that the commission and legal expenses such as searching title and drawing papers must be paid by the person who is to borrow the money from you.

HOW TO CHECK TITLES
It is very important to have the papers drawn by a lawyer and have the title searched. Many persons have fooled themselves by taking mortgages on property and then finding that someone else has a prior lien. So far as the papers appear there is no difference between a first and second mortgage. The paper which is recorded first at the office of the county clerk becomes the first mortgage, while the paper which is filed second becomes the second mortgage. Moreover, one should be careful that there are no mechanic liens or other attachments on the property. A lawyer will take care of these things, but make sure that the expense is paid by the borrower, unless you are allowed a commission of five per cent for the first year in addition to the rate of interest. It is of course important that the mortgage should be recorded. People who are very careful will go to the county court house where the mortgage is recorded and there give the money to the borrower so that no possible lien or attachment can be put on the property between the time that the loaner gives the money to the

NO DEBT TOO OLD FOR COLLECTORS OF RATE LEAGUE

Agency Makes Specialty of Collecting Accounts Believed to Be Dead

Anyone who has made numerous vain attempts to collect a long standing debt and have almost given up in the belief that the debtor is an out and out dead need not give up hope for there is in Appleton a concern known as the Wisconsin Rating League which makes a specialty of collecting old time accounts, which to the ordinary individual may seem like hopeless cases.

The league has representatives in all parts of the country to whom inquiries may be forwarded concerning debtors of Appleton persons residing in other towns and cities throughout the country. Collections are made from anywhere in the United States and Canada.

Bill collecting is becoming more and more difficult as time goes on, according to H. P. Breen, manager of the Wisconsin Rating League, especially in the case of the working people, because laboring men have become more and more familiar with the state laws regarding collection which sometimes make it possible for them to evade the payment of a debt.

When an account has run for six years it becomes outworn, but most creditors are aware of this fact and take steps to sue their debtors for the amount of the bill before the time is up. If a person earns less than $180 in three months' his wages cannot be garnished to settle a debt. Debtors who are aware of this law and who are earning about $60 or a little more a month will work about two or two and a half months at one job then lay off for a few weeks and then begin work on a new job, so that they will not earn the required $180 in the three months and thus dodge payment of a bill. In some cases, however, rating league is able to garnish a persons wages in behalf of the creditor and in this way settle up the outstanding account. To carry out this method the creditor must first sign an order which will permit the rating league to garnish a certain amount of the wages of the debtor every pay day.

The Wisconsin Rating League also keeps an up to date rating of local business firms and individuals so that anyone's financial and business standing may be learned here. This has proved to be an invaluable service to business firms, retail dealers and persons who wish to learn the standing of an individual before risking any business dealings with him. The agency has been in existence for the last 12 years and is located on the second floor of the First National bank building.

While a general buying movement in pig iron has not yet materialized, sales aggregating about 100,000 tons were reported during the week. The market is more active than at any time since the majority of first quarter needs were contracted for about three months ago. For the most part prices are firm and an unusual degree of stability is indicated. Ferro-manganese was offered last week at $88, the lowest figure in the recent flurry of activity. English and German material is held at the old price of $116, Atlantic seaboard. Trade Review's London cable reports a reaction in the British market in response to declines in American prices.

Iron Trade Review composite of 14 leading iron and steel products stands at $38.86 as compared with $38.89 last week and $40.22 a year ago.

OVERCOAT IS RETURNED
Seattle, Wash.,—Washington State Forest Supervisor Sylvester has received the weather-worn remains of an overcoat which he left on the summit of Overcoat Peak in the Cascade mountains 28 years ago. It was forwarded to him in an envelope. He left it buttoned around a rock for use as a signal when he completed surveying in that region in 1897. The peak was named from the coat.

Interest in the probable activity of the automobile industry during the next quarter is accentuated by the fact that four important builders have curtailed production. On the other hand, manufacturers of several moderate priced cars oversold their outputs in March and therefore are striving for greater capacity. Production now more closely parallels the actual volume of sales, than in previous years. Therefore, it is believed the likelihood of serious curtailment of orders in case of sharp reductions in production is remote.

CHORUS OF 200
READY TO SING
EASTER ORATORIO

Famous Soloists Assist Appleton Choirs in Annual Music Festival

A wide experience in the recital and oratorio field, two seasons with the Chicago Opera association, three with the Ravenna Opera company and numerous appearances with orchestras throughout the United States and Canada have combined to make Mrs. Barbara Wait, who sings contralto solos in the Easter oratorio, "Stabat Mater", Sunday evening at Lawrence Memorial chapel, one of the most eminent contralto soloists in Chicago and the middle west. Her voice has power and breadth sufficient for the exacting demands of opera and oratorio while still retaining a warm and velvety quality and a flexibility unusual in a contralto.

The St. Louis Republic says of Mrs. Wait's voice, "Miss Wait has a big voice, truly contralto in quality and of the extended compass demanded by such opera roles as Ortrud and Amneris."

The Cleveland Plain Dealer comments on Mrs. Wait's personality as follows: "Miss Wait captivated her audience and was forced to give an encore to all of her numbers."

Members of the choirs of the several Protestant churches which are co-operating in sponsoring the Easter festival, and the schola cantorum of Lawrence college, have been working hard for over two months rehearsing Rossini's famous Stabat Mater which was selected as the oratorio for this year's festival. The chorus which consists of more than 200 singers, is directed by Carl J. Waterman, dean of Lawrence Conservatory of Music, who has been director of the annual Easter festival since it was started three years ago.

Three famous Chicago oratorio singers have been engaged for solo parts in "Stabat Mater." They are Isabel Richardson Miller, soprano; George Culbertson, tenor; and Barbara Wait, contralto. Carl McKee, instructor of voice at the Lawrence conservatory will sing the bass solos.

The singers will be accompanied by the conservatory string orchestra directed by Percy Fullinwider. LaValin Maesch will be the organ accompanist and Irma Sherman the pianist.

MAIL CARRIERS
STAGGER UNDER
EASTER LOADS

Mail carriers Saturday were carrying a pot peeve against the Easter bunny and the installment man.

The cause of the anger on the part of the mail men was due to the fact that the mails were swollen with Easter cards, flowers, suits and finery for the Easter parade, as well as the usual monthly bills sent out by the various business houses to their customers.

But, despite this large volume of Easter business, Postmaster William H. Zuehlke declared that, due to the fact that picture post cards now require 2 cent postage, there was less of that type of mail this year than there was before the law requiring 2 cents for these cards went into effect.

25% More Power in New Jewett Motor

THE Jewett Motor improved. It seemed impossible. For few motors of any type or size have equalled Jewett's amazing past performance.

Records on hill and track, established 3 years ago by the first great Jewett Motor, still stand—unchallenged by any car.

But even this remarkable performance was not enough. Months of research and testing have now produced this new—greater Jewett Motor. A motor so smooth—so quiet—so vibrationless at all speeds that you will scarcely hear it. Yet with power that seems limitless. 25% more than the old Jewett without increasing the size.

Study this motor! Ask the Paige-Jewett dealer to show you these remarkable improvements. Then take the wheel of a new Jewett and make your own test. Five minutes will prove all we say. (52-2)

THE YELLOW STUB

by Ernest Lynn

BEGIN HERE TODAY

HENRY RAND, 35, a business man, is found mysteriously murdered in a cheap hotel. The only clues are a woman's handkerchief and a yellow ticket stub from the Paragon Theater in Milwaukee.

JIMMY, the murdered man's son, decides to go to Milwaukee until the mystery is solved. He and DETECTIVE MOONEY trace the ticket stub to a THOMAS ED. GARTY, who proves an alibi and says he gave the ticket to a woman named OLGA MAYNARD.

Jimmy and Mooney try to find her but they learn she has gone to GRAFTON, where the murder took place. JANET RAND, Jimmy's sister, breaks her engagement with BARRY COLVIN, and Jimmy, while in Milwaukee, meets MARY LOWELL, who is instrumental in getting him a job.

He is with Mary in a cabaret when he hears a man pronounce the name of Olga Maynard.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XI
Olga Maynard. He wheeled sharply in his chair to see who had pronounced the name. The two men were looking across the room at a table in a far corner.

Jimmy saw a girl sitting alone smoking a cigarette. She certainly fitted Fogarty's description of Olga Maynard, he thought. Tall blond, highly rouged—he could tell that, even from where he sat. He stared at her.

Mary's voice cut in: "I think we had better go. Do you mind taking me home?" She had seen his start at the mention of Olga's name—had seen him stare at her across the room. There was ice in her tone.

Her words brought him suddenly to a realization that he had offended her. "Mary, I'm sorry. I was startled. Must be go now? We've only had one dance."

He was thinking: stalling for time. It wouldn't do to let Olga Maynard get out of his sight now that he had found her. How could he talk to her with Mary present? He cursed the chance that had thrown the two of them together. If only Mary didn't insist on going, there'd be some way of getting word....

"Are you coming?" asked Mary coolly. She had risen.

He scrambled to his feet with a muttered apology. He was furious with himself. He saw Olga Maynard eyeing them as they passed her table near the door. He thought frantically of trying to give her some signal, but didn't dare.

"Will you give me my vanity box, please?" They were standing in front of the hat-checking room. He brought it out of his pocket. Mary took it and vanished into a dressing room.

He tossed the hat checks to the girl behind the counter. "Be right back," he called to her and hurried straight over to Olga Maynard.

"I beg your pardon," he said swiftly. He was bending over her table.

"Your name is Olga Maynard, isn't it?"

She surveyed him unsmiling through half-closed eyes. "Who wants to know?" she drawled.

"I'm sorry—I'm in a terrible hurry—I'm with a young lady," he stammered. "Will you meet me here in a half hour? Dumb it," he cried impatiently at her quick look. "I'm not trying to make a date, it's important. Will you meet me?"

"Well, I like that! Where did you get hold of that line? Say, I'm with company myself, if you want to know. Here he comes now, Mister."

She nodded toward the door.

He debated briefly whether to get hold of a policeman and have her arrested. He decided instantly against it.

"Listen," he said desperately. "You meet me here tomorrow night. I've got a musical comedy job for you. A friend of mine told me about you—Tom Fogarty."

She started. "Say, who are you?" she asked.

"Colvin—Barry Colvin," he blurted back. It was the first name he could think of. "I'll be here tomorrow night. Same time."

He was flipping the check room girl when Mary emerged from the dressing room. She was frigidly silent on the ride home.

He was half tempted to tell her everything—why he was in Milwaukee, and who Olga Maynard was—but on reflection decided stubbornly not to.

Back in his room, he threw his hat angrily on the bed, convinced that he had made a batch of blunders.

Olga Maynard met him. She kept him waiting a half hour, but he never doubted for a minute that she was coming.

"Well," she said, sitting down at his table. "I'm here."

He had risen. "It was good of you to come." He offered her a cigarette, and lit one himself to hide his excitement.

She waited for him to speak. "Miss Maynard," he began. "I led you here last night about my name. It isn't Colvin. My name—he was watching her closely to observe the effect of his words—was Rand. James Rand. I'm from Grafton."

She betrayed no surprise. "Grafton's a good place to come from," she remarked dryly. "I've been there."

"Yes, I know you have. As a matter of fact, you were there week before last."

"Say, who are you Sherlock Holmes in disguise?" She said, half angrily. "I didn't come here to hear my biography. What have you been doing—trying to get something on me?"

"No, I haven't. But listen to me."

"You said," she interrupted, "you had a musical comedy job lined up. I'm interested. If you haven't, I'm not. Now tell me what's on your mind."

"I'll tell you in a minute what's on my mind, but first I want you to answer a few questions. Tell me this——did you go to the Paragon Theater the evening of Nov. 25? That was a Monday night—the night before you went to Grafton."

"Say—"

"You answer me!" He brought his hand smartly down on the table.

She shrugged her shoulders. "All right—I did. Sure."

"Where did you get the ticket?"

"Tom Fogarty gave it to me. There was bewilderment in her eyes. "All right, Fogarty at least is telling the truth. Now then, did you ever hear of a man named Henry Rand?"

"No."

"Did you ever know a man named H. A. Jones?"

"No. Say, for God's sake cut this out and tell me what it's all about! You'd think I'd murdered somebody, the way you act."

"Miss Maynard," he said, "that's exactly what you're suspected of doing."

"Not! You're lying!" She sprang to her feet. Her eyes darted a look of rage at him. "You dirty dog!" she whispered hoarsely. "You're trying to get something on me. Why can't they leave me alone?"

"Why can't they leave you alone?" he asked.

"You know who I'm talking about. You know very well. You can go to hell, I'm leaving." She grabbed her pocketbook—a beaded bag.

"Miss Maynard," he took hold of her wrist, aware that they were very nearly creating a scene. "don't go yet. Sit down and listen to me. You've got to."

He was holding her wrist cruelly tight. She winced with the pain and sat down, he half forcing her into her chair.

"I'm not trying to get anything on you, as you say. You listen to these facts and see for yourself. Henry Rand was my father. He was murdered in a hotel in Grafton on Nov. 27. You've just told me you used Fogarty's ticket at the Paragon Theater two nights before. Well the stub of that ticket was found in the stomach of my father. How did it get there?"

She was white beneath her rouge. She was gripping the edge of the table with her hands. "It's a lie!" She leaned toward him, tense. "It's a lie! I don't believe it!"

"It's the truth. How do you suppose I know you used Fogarty's ticket? We found the stub and traced it down to Fogarty. He told the police he gave it to you."

"The police? God! Do they know this?"

"They're looking for you now. The landlady at your last address said you left town. I was there."

"I tell you," she said, her voice strained and slow. "I don't know anything about it. It's a frame-up. How about Fogarty, if he knows so much?"

"What was he to prevent him having a duplicate ticket made and planted?"

"Where was he?"

"He's already proved an alibi. He was not in Grafton when the murder was committed. You were."

"Sure I was—looking for work—and I didn't find it. That's why I'm back. Take me out of here. I'm sick. I'll faint if I don't get out in the air."

"Where do you live?" Jimmy asked her. "I'll take you home."

She gave him an address in Downer-ave.

"Come on," he said. "let's go out." He signaled to a waiter.

He paid the check and took her arm. She leaned heavily on him as they walked to the door.

"You've got to tell me all you know about this," he said to her when they had reached the street. She was acting, was concealing something he told himself. He continued, roughly: "If you don't tell me, maybe you'll tell the police."

She blazed at him. "I don't know anything about it, I tell you. Let me alone."

"What did you do with the theater ticket after you used it?" he asked. They were walking down Downer-ave.

She answered him wearily: "I don't know. I suppose I threw it away. What do you think I'd do with it—put it in a scrap book?"

"Look here," he said, "you're not playing fair with me. I'm trying to be decent with you, and you accuse me of being a party to some kind of a frame-up. Every word I've said to you tonight is true. I'm asking you to give an explanation of how that ticket stub could have got into that room and you refuse. I've been wasting time. I should have turned you over to the police when I first saw you."

"I've been persuading myself that you didn't have anything to do with it. Now I'm beginning to think I was a fool. I've a good mind to call a policeman now. They want you for murder, do you understand that?"

"Murder? Oh God, no! They can't!" She swayed toward him and would have fallen if he had not caught her in his arms. They were in front of the Mayfair Hotel. He hailed a taxi-cab.

The light from the street lamp above them was bright on her heavily painted face and blond hair. She was limp in his arms when he reached the man and woman in front of the hotel staring at him. They were in evening clothes. The woman was Mary Lowell. He lifted Olga Maynard into the cab and closed the door.

NEIGHBORS OF BAKERY APPEAL TO HIGH COURT

Ask State Tribunal to Void Permit to Build Addition to Goettlicher Shop

An appeal from the decision of Circuit Judge Edgar V. Werner last October which allowed Charles Goettlicher to build an addition to his bakery at 112 E. North-st. will be made to the Supreme Court by his neighbors, Bertha Behling, Harold Kuntz, Lilly Kuntz and Dr. Robert S. Mitchell.

Goettlicher was granted permission to build the addition to his plant in July after the zoning board of appeals had passed favorably on his application. He built the addition and was given a certificate of occupancy by the city building inspector. This also was approved by the zoning board. The neighbors filed a petition asking the court to void the action of the board of appeals on the ground that to build such an addition in the residence district violated the city zoning ordinance which prohibits the construction of residences in certain districts. The petitioners also claimed that the bakery was a nuisance because of noise, odor and objectionable features. The action of the board of appeals in approving the certificate also should be set aside, the petition said.

Goettlicher contended that the addition assured better sanitation to his bakery and this was the contention of the board of appeals in backing up its approval of the project. Judge Werner entered judgment for Goettlicher on the ground that it would be an injustice to set aside the board's permit after Goettlicher had obtained them lawfully, had acted on them and had not gone beyond the rights they gave him.

If you just want exercise

OF COURSE gardening does benefit the system. It hardens your hands, makes you muscular, gets you out-of-doors, gives you a fine appetite, rids you of indigestion and makes you sleep like a top.

But if you are seeking exercise, merely, why bother with seeds at all? Why not just dig?

Few will listen to this kind of reasoning. The fact is that everybody who starts a garden is out for flowers or vegetables. The exercise is incidental.

Gardening is a serious proposition. You want to be sure that you get full returns for those hours you work. But you may have to charge your work off to exercise if you don't exercise your judgment when you choose seeds.

Choose Ferry's purebred Seeds for the fine flowers and vegetables you can expect from them. They come from ideal parent plants whose history we know. Their purebred quality is not the result of accident or chance. Science and skill it doesn't make any difference what kind of seeds you plant

have been employed for years to maintain it. For seventy years we have been growing, weeding out, perfecting and testing. More extensive tests are made in our experimental gardens than anywhere else in the United States to determine that they are true to type.

Could any greater precautions be taken to protect you when you buy seeds? The more you consider our care, the more faith you will have in the quality of Ferry's purebred Seeds.

You will find Ferry's purebred Seeds clean and tested, "at the store around the corner," in the familiar Ferry Box. Make your selections there as thousands of successful gardeners do all over the country. If you will send us your name and address, we will mail you Ferry's Seed Annual free. It presents all of Ferry's purebred Seeds with full descriptions. Ferry's Seed Annual is a book every gardener should have. D. M. Ferry & Co., Detroit, Mich.; San Francisco, Cal.; Windsor, Ont.

LETTER FROM PRISCILLA BRADFORD TO MRS. MARY ALDEN PRESCOTT

My Dear Mary:

It has been over a year since I have heard from you directly and I've often wondered if you ever thought of your old friend Priscilla. Of course, the newspapers have told us all about John and John's wife. He certainly married into a rich family when he married Leslie, didn't he? It is no wonder that, knowing the wealth of the Hamiltons, he would pass up all his old neighbors for a chance to marry into such financial society.

How does it seem to be always in the newspapers? I can remember when you thought it was a disgrace to have your name in our little local sheet, but now the name of John Alden Prescott has figured in all sorts of exciting and more or less dubious news items. Why, even, almost a column was given over to the birth of Leslie's child which was described with shocking frankness.

The death of Miss Ellington, the loss of Leslie's diamond, with the parties given by Leslie and those given for her, seem to have made history for your family. I am not quite sure, however, if it is the kind I would like to have about mine.

You have been so busy, I suppose it has been quite easy to forget all your friends in this sleepy old town and I would have allowed myself to rest in the oblivion to which you consigned us, if I had not met a man the other day who was sure that he knew you and who, I am sure, does not know you at all. The gentleman is the brother of the people to whom you rented your house. His name is Mr. Orson Gibson.

I don't know whether you know it or not but the Gibsons have made themselves well liked here. They are most conservative and stable people. Just the kind that we who have lived here all our lives are pleased to see make out little town their home. The other evening Mr. and Mrs. Gibson gave a little party to introduce their brother to their friends in the village. Naturally your name came up as all your old neighbors were wondering if you would ever come back or if you would conclude that we had grown too old-fashioned for you.

"What did you say the lady's name was?" asked Mr. Orson Gibson. "I met a Mrs. Mary Alden Prescott at Atlantic City this summer and I was told that she was the mother of Mr. John Alden Prescott who married the immensely wealthy Leslie Hamilton of Pittsburgh."

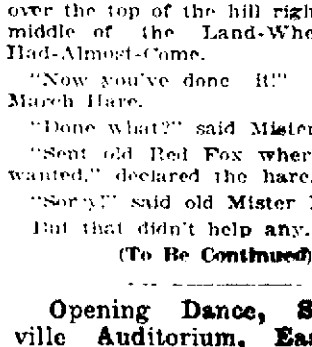

Of course, I described you to him, but he didn't seem to recognize the description at all.

He said, "The woman I know by the name of Mrs. Mary Alden Prescott is very good looking and all though I think her hair is touched up a little with henna. I am sure it is very much more charming than the partly gray head of the austere lady you have described."

1925 MAJOR LEAGUE CHAMPS MEET HARD LUCK

PIRATES TO GET FIRST WORKOUTS INSIDE OF WEEK

Things Are Breaking Nicely for Giants, Yanks, Cards and Athletics

Chicago. (A)—Big league baseball clubs have been heralded as this year's pennant winners are basking in the sunshine of their bright prospects while last year's champions pondered their recent hard luck.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, holders of the world's title, Saturday expected to get their first workout in five days. They are now at Hot Springs driven from Wichita and Kansas City by wintry blasts and are scheduled to meet Indianapolis Saturday and Milwaukee Sunday.

Emilio Palmero, a Cuban portender, was on the mound Friday at Quitman, Ga. for Columbus and humbled the mighty Washington Senators, American League champions of 1925. The Cuban hurled masterful ball, experiencing only one difficult inning during which the Nats got their only three scores.

Meantime things were breaking nicely for the New York Giants, New York Yankees, Philadelphia Athletics and St. Louis Cardinals all of whom are conceded to be first division clubs.

Pitcher Shawkey of Huggins' Yankees broomed along in fine form against the Brooklyn Dodgers at Atlanta, allowing only six hits and adding another victory to the New York list. Babe Ruth had a bad day, fanning twice. Terry, holdout Giant, searched Memphis in vain for John McGraw with the intention of talking terms. But it has been indicated the Master Mind is far from despondent even with out Terry.

Rogers Hornsby's Cards won their 25th victory Friday, beating North Worth Texas and freely admit they will beat the Dallas club Saturday. The Redbirds have lost only one game this spring.

Connie Mack has his Athletics back home ready to meet the other Philadelphia team the Phillies, Saturday. He announces his players have improved in the past fortnight to add fire to their pennant chances. The Athletics beat Rochester at Richmond Friday. Catcher Hopline, who refused to go south, has relented and signed up with the Phils.

But the worries of the Phillies are not over. Bancroft of the Boston Braves having publicly stated he intends to start hurler Genewick against them in their battle of the season, Genewick was consistently successful against Philadelphia last year.

Both Chicago teams annexed victories on Good Friday. The White Sox downed Shreveport and the Cubs won eleven frames to defeat the Hollywood Stars at Los Angeles. The Sox showed improved batting skill but lack of timely hitting lengthened the Cub tilt. Both teams are playing again Saturday.

Miller and Carr are scheduled to pitch today for the Cleveland Indians in the first of several games at New Orleans.

GROTH LEADS HOTEL NORTHERN PIN MEN

William Groth had the highest average of any member of the Hotel Northern bowling squad, crack City League team, according to team records compiled this week. Groth knocked over 11,241 pins in 50 games for an average of over 187 pins a game. A. Jimos participated in the most games, 141, and knocked over 24,864 pins. He got an average of 177.141 pins for third place just below A. Bauer who averaged 177.40-108 pins.

High series of the year went to Jimos with a 635 and high game to A. Bauer with a 2458. The standings of the pinmen follow:

Bauer, 19,150 pins in 108 games, 177.40-108; C. Van Alde, 19,928 pins in 114 games, 170.4-114; A. Jimos, 24,864 pins in 141 games, 177.4-141; N. Bauer, 15,224 pins in 87 games, 174.8-87; H. Berge, 22,977 pins in 132 games, 174.9-132; Groth, 11,241 pins in 50 games, 187.2-50.

PLAN TO START WORK ON GOLF LINKS SOON

Preparations are being made by officers of the Buttes des Moris golf club to put the course in condition immediately after the present snow leaves the ground. The work was to be started about April 12 but the weather upset the plans. Frank Walsh, club pro, is expected to return about April 15, to take up his work. Walter Hanson again will be caddy master of the club.

Officers of the club look for an even better year than 1925 which was the initial year of the club. The grounds have been improved radically, a well has been drilled and rest houses have been erected since last fall.

WINNEBAGOS WHIP CHEROKEE PINMEN

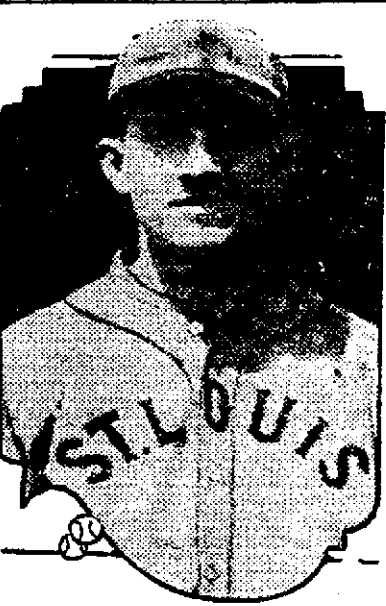

Winnebagoes of the K. C. League whipped the Cherokees two out of three games in a postponed loop match rolled Friday evening on the Elk alleys. The Winnebagoes took the match by 32 pins.

Mahoney of the winners had high game and high series of the evening 2-211 and 543. Schneider was high for the losers with a 197 game and a 528 series. Prawlley of the winners with a 202 had the only other 200 game of the battle. The Cherokees

OSCAR MELLILLO

Tarpon Springs, Fla.—(A)—One of the most promising youngsters to come to the majors this season is Oscar Melillo of the St. Louis Browns. Melillo is an infielder, fair hitter and sensational fielder. He was with Milwaukee last year. Melillo has shown to such good advantage in the training camp of the Browns that Manager Sisler is finding it a rather difficult problem to select his regular inner defense.

CRUICKSHANK IS WINNER IN SOUTH

Doughty Bobby Finally Breaks Jinx to Carry Off North-south Golf Honors

Pinehurst, N. C.—(A)—Bobby Cruickshank, doughty little Scot, is a golf champion after numerous reverses, the holder of the North and South open title.

The grit that carried Bobby through four years of war with the Seaford Highlanders of his native country, that gave him heart for six months in a German prison camp, and that eventually led him to safety in an escape through Holland, has stood him in good stead on the links of the United States.

He lost the national open in 1923 to Bobby Jones in a play off. The past winter he has figured in the money in various tournaments, just missing first place by breaks. His winning score was 293, representing 71, 71, 71, 74.

Philomatic, MacDonald Smith, North and South champion of 1925, Arthur Yates, New York amateur and Tommy Harmon, home-bred young professional of Yonkers, N. Y., were tied for second place, a stroke behind the wee Scotchman.

Only four others in the great array of talent that competed were able to break 300. Joe Kirkwood, the Australian, finished with 296 while Fred McLeod of Washington came in with 298. Walter Hagen and Tommy Armour with 299 each, Bill Melhorn and Jack Hutchinson completed the 300 holes in 301, Johnny Farrell with 302 and Leo Diegel with 303.

FRIES AND KLINE TOP PIN TOURNEY

Mark of 1,210 Worth 1st Place in Olympic Meet; Pierce Duo Goes into Third

F. Fries and A. Kline shot their way into first place in the doubles of the Olympic alley pin meet this week marking up a 1,210. W. Pierce and C. Pierce went into third places with a 1,199 score. The changes were the fifth and sixth in the doubles in two weeks. Burnside and Haase, now in sixth place lead the parade, then Burnside and Bergstrom topped their mark. Soon after Doc O'Keefe and J. Balliet forged ahead and then O'Keefe and Kline got the first 1,200 score of the meet to take first. The Pierce duo, shoved the O'Keefe-Balliet pair down a notch. Weisgerber and Kline, leaders for more than two weeks after the meet started now repose in seventh place. Kline is a member of the first two high pairs in the doubles, the only two pairs to hit the 1,200 mark.

Another change was made when W. Pierce and G. Jimos rolled into the for ninth place in the doubles with the O'Keefe-Kline combination with a 1,193 mark. No changes were registered in the singles. Standings to date: Doubles—F. Fries—A. Kline, 1,210; Dr. O'Keefe—A. Kline, 1,208; W. Pierce—C. Pierce, 1,199; Dr. O'Keefe—J. Balliet, 1,197; W. Bergstrom—Burnside, 1,194; Burnside—E. Haase, 1,190; A. BADGERS HOLD "SPRING" GRID DRILL INDOORS

Madison.—(A)—Defeated by the elements in plans for outdoor football practice this week, the University of Wisconsin squad opened the six weeks training today under the cover of the gymnasium annex.

Delayed one week by the failure of spring in earlier Coach George Little, tired of waiting and ordered varsity aspirants to appear in football togs today in the annex that has been the training camp for both track and basketball teams.

The Wisconsin mentor planned to open the spring training season in preparation for next fall's gridiron campaign Monday, but postponed the tilt to Thursday on account of the cold weather. No other delay was resorted to by the snow which blanketed the field.

It is expected that the large squad will be kept at work each afternoon in the gymnasium until practice on Randall Field becomes possible.

Spring practice last year was started in the gymnasium but earlier in the season.

DUTCH BEAT FRENCH IN PUNCHBALL GAME

Kimberly — The Kimberly Dutchmen, punchball experts, demonstrated their superiority at the game over the Kimberly Frenchmen in an international battle, the score ending 61 to 27 with the Frenchmen edgy in need of runs. Rooting was strong for both sides and the game looked like a close battle up until the third inning when the Dutchmen found the frozen pitching ace for numerous runs, which they held for the remainder of the game. Courchane, Courchane and the Frogs, while Van Zanden, Behl and Williams did the score getting for the Dutchmen.

Former Brewer Upset To Sisler's Infield Plans

BY BILLY EVANS

Tarpon Springs, Fla. — One Oscar Melillo has upset considerably the plans of Manager George Sisler of the St. Louis Browns. By way of introduction, Melillo is a second baseman. He starred with Milwaukee in the American Association last year.

When Sisler came south to condition his athletes for the 1926 race, he felt that his infield was one department of play that was definitely settled. In other words, it seemed a certainty that Gene Robertson would play third, Walter Gerber short, Marty McManus second, while Manager Sisler would cover around first.

It is just that his infield will line up that way when the season opens but at present it is the most unsettled part of the entire team.

From the very start of spring training Melillo has made it apparent that he is a mighty good ball player. He early showed brilliance in the field but did nothing sensational at the bat.

When it seemed as if his batting was too light to furnish serious competition for Marty McManus, he began to slug the ball all over the lot. In a game I saw him play against Brooklyn, he made four clean drives for a base or better.

LEAGUE LEADERS WIN IN PUNCHBALL BATTLE

Kimberly—In a game featured by hectic fielding and heavy hitting the laboratory punchball artists, were led down to another defeat, and the Construction gangsters continued with their list of wins. Lane, in the box for the Laboratory, held the Construction in tow until the last inning, when the batters found the ball and drove him from the box. Gerrits of Little Chute relieved Lane, but he fared no better, the heavy hitting Construction boys continuing their list of runs. This gives the Construction a clear lead in the race for first place, and sets the second place Lab crew back a game.

FIRROS EXPECTS TO BEAT ITALIAN CHAMP

Buenos Ayres.—(A)—Luis Angulo Firpo expects to defeat Remigio Spalla of Italy, in their 15 round bout Saturday night. The Wild Bull of the Pampas looks for a harder fight, however, than he had when he tucked away the heavyweight champion of Europe to sleep two years ago in 14 rounds.

Firpo has been training under the tutelage of Felix Hango, millionaire sportsman, who was his mentor when Jack Dempsey knocked him out in New York.

Spalla has been in Argentina for a month. He has specialized on defense work to offset the wild charges of Firpo. Although the Argentine is the favorite in the slight betting that has been recorded, the thousands of Spalla's countrymen in Buenos Aires are supporting the Italian at least sentimentally. If Firpo is victorious he contemplates another visit to the United States where he will seek a return fight with Dempsey.

NATIONAL BALL WEEK SCHEDULED FOR APRIL 3-10

Major Griffith to Talk Over Radio; Sport Stores to Have Special Displays

St. Louis, Mo.—National Baseball week, the official opening of the playing season, is scheduled this year for April 3 to 10. The event, originated several years ago by "The Sporting Goods Dealer," a trade publication, has grown in importance until this season it will be marked by special displays in the windows of sporting goods stores the distribution of pamphlets calling attention to the season's opening and radio talks on the national game, delivered by various leaders in organized sports and officials of the sporting goods industry.

In addition to such promotional work as may be performed by baseball leaders, "The Sporting Goods Dealer" each year stages a prize window display contest among merchants handling athletic supplies, awarding cash prizes to those who prepare the most striking showings of baseball equipment in an atmosphere emblematic of the national game. Several local stores are arranging to enter this contest.

Speakers who will discuss the importance of baseball to America's millions of radio listeners include Major John L. ILLINI CAGERS HAD ODD RECORD IN 1926

Champaign, Ill.—Illinois hung up a most unusual record in its first seven Big Ten basketball games. Though winning five of the tilts, the Orange and Blue cagers didn't outscore the opponents in combined totals. In fact, each count ed 165 points.

The Illini simply managed to get their counters where they did the most good. Four of the victories were by less than five point margins. In the Ohio State defeat Illinois trailed by 12 points.

Only One College Representative at Student Volunteer Meeting Here

Because of the condition of the roads after the snow storm this week, delegates from Ripon, Wisconsin and Carroll colleges who were to be in Appleton this weekend to attend a convention of the Student Volunteer Association of America at the local Methodist church, were unable to make the trip. Milton College was the only other college besides Lawrence with delegates at the opening session of the convention Friday night. An informal get-acquainted meeting was held Friday night at which about 30 persons were present, including the Milton delegate and those from the Lawrence college association.

The program on Saturday morning opened with a talk by Dr. J. E. Skinner of Chicago. Other speakers were Miss Twill Layton and Dr. W. S. Naylor. Prof. R. H. Hannum was scheduled to speak at the afternoon session at 2 o'clock. Loy L. Long of New York was to give a talk after which there was to be a business meeting and social hour. At 6 o'clock, a fellowship dinner will be served by Dr. J. A. Holmes as guestmaster. Dr. Merritt H. Wriston will be the principal speaker at the dinner and Dr. Skinner is to speak at the evening session at 8:15.

The Student Volunteer body will conduct Sunrise service at 6:30 Sunday morning at the Congregational church in conjunction with the Christian Endeavor societies and young people organizations of the city. Dr. J. E. Denney will be the speaker at the closing session of the convention at 2:30 Sunday afternoon.

D. A. R. GIVES WILSON PICTURE TO WILSON J. H. S.

A painting of President Wilson, which will be presented soon to the Wilson Junior high school, will be on display over the weekend in the Sackler-Diederich windows. The picture is a gift from the Daughters of the American Revolution. The club is planning to present pictures of President Roosevelt and McKinley to Roosevelt and McKinley junior high schools.

DRUNK GETS FREE RIDE IN MOTORCOPS SIDECAR

While experts declare that the new 3.75 per cent malt drink cannot be used for beverage purposes for intoxication, the fact remains that Joseph Hieker, 407 W. College, was unable to navigate properly Friday afternoon.

Officer Kadke found Mr. Hieker slumped up with himself on the S. Cherry street bridge and the officer put the unfortunate man in the side car of the police motor-cycle and gave him a refreshing ride to the police station. At headquarters Hieker was booked on the charge of intoxication.

The defendant was fined $9.20 in municipal court Saturday.

KOOLS CREDITORS GET 15 PER CENT DIVIDENDS

When creditors of the bankrupt Kools Manufacturing Co. meet Monday afternoon in the office of C. E. Behnke, referee in bankruptcy for a final hearing, it is probable that 15 per cent dividend will be ordered, according to Mr. Behnke. The Kools company filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy July 12, 1921.

At the initial hearing Heber Peikay was named trustee for the creditors. Liabilities were listed at $4,200.56 and assets at $18,475.60. The concern was engaged in the manufacture of a patent vegetable peeler and carried on operations in the former Reliance Motor Truck plant on W. Spencer st. John F. Lappen was president of the concern and William H. Zuehlke was secretary.

POLICE NAB 5 FOR PARKING IN TABOOED AREAS

Five arrests were made Friday in the attempt of the Appleton police to curb car parking in front of theaters. Detective Sergeant Duval arrested Clarence Schultz, 514 W. Commercial, for parking his car in front of the Majestic theater. The same officer apprehended Nick Palzer of route 3, Appleton, and Arnon Sandahl, 1019 N. Division st., for parking in front of the Elite theater.

Officer Lockery arrested Mrs. Harry Conkey of Kaukauna and John H. Dow of Milwaukee, for parking in front of the Majestic theater.

"We must keep the parking spaces in front of the theaters open," declared George T. Prim, chief of police. "In the event of a theater fire, he said, it would be in a bad way if some private car obstructed the work of the fire department."

All those arrested for parking in front of theaters appeared in municipal court Saturday and were $4.20, as was Charles Burris, who was arrested last week for passing an arterial highway without stopping.

FARMERS BATTLE OVER FREEDOM DRAIN DITCH
County court room was crowded with farmers from neighboring points Saturday as the matter of draining Duck Creek in the vicinity of Black Creek, Center and Freedom was thrashed out by the drainage board before Judge Percy Heinemann. Objection to the proposal was mainly from farmers in the vicinity of Freedom, some of whom contended that if the creek were drained it would deprive them of the benefits they now receive from it. On the other hand the majority of farmers seemed to be for the idea, declaring that in the spring and during heavy rains the flooding of the creek caused them much damage.

The proposal was made in the effect that the whole project could be carried out for the sum of $31,000. Indications were that the case would continue all Saturday.

FINISH IN JULY
Construction of the extension of S. Cherry st. to Foster st. through the Lynch farm will be started within a few weeks, and the new roadway probably will be ready for travel in July, according to city officials. Highway 15 will be routed over this street at that time.

Consolidation proceedings against John Lynch, occupant of the farm through which the new highway will run, were completed at Oshkosh last week. The proceedings were instituted by Winnebago co. after repeated efforts to purchase a right-of-way through the farm had failed. A decision is expected sometime next week.

Winnebago co. has been proceeding with plans for the construction of the road. C. C. Roling, town bay division engineer of the state highway commission, was informed several weeks ago that practically all details necessary for the work were completed. The latter indicated he would let the contract for work, which also includes the paving of S. Cherry st. south of Memorial bridge, at once.

The action of the state highway commission in routing highway 15 through the Lynch farm, which marks the close of a movement started several years ago by both Appleton and Winnebago co. officials and business-men. On April 23, 1924, a delegation of about 20 Appleton residents, headed by Mayor John Goodland, Jr., and including the entire board of public works and representatives of the chamber of commerce and local business houses, went to Oshkosh to attend a public hearing on the proposed rerouting. The sentiment at this hearing was favorable to the proposal.

Adelle Steinhauer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Steinhauer, who submitted to an operation at St. Elizabeth hospital last Sunday is improving, rapidly and will be taken to her home in a few days.

Prices Tend to Rise in Early Trading — Sales Reach 800,000 Shares

New York (AP) — Stock prices turned heavy again Saturday as weekend realizing sales appeared on the market in large volume. While there was no resumption of the urgent liquidation which crushed the market early in the week, stocks of all descriptions eased off gradually after an early period of strength.

The closing was heavy. Total sales approximated 800,000 shares.

New York (AP) — Stock prices pointed upward at the opening of Saturday's market. Buying of the oils was stimulated by reports of merger negotiations between the Texas co. and the California Petroleum co. but the initial gains were largely fractional. Chrysler and Baldwin opened 1/4 and 1 1/2 points higher respectively.

Renewed selling pressure against merchandizing and motor shares quickly checked the upward movement. Woolworth broke 4 points. Hudson Motors fell back two, and S. S. Kresge, General Motors, Stewart Warner, Fleischmann, Allied Chemical, R. H. Macy and St. Louis Southwestern lost a point or more. California petroleum extended its gain to two points and Pan American P. Houston, Texas Company Marine Preferred, Liggett and Myers B and American Locomotive sold a point or two higher. Over the holiday, news was largely bullish in character, the chief item being the announcement by Federal Reserve bank that bankers loans had been reduced nearly $450,000,000 from their high level of the year. Trading in the foreign exchanges was quiet due to the Holiday in most of the European and South American capitals and quotations were largely nominal. Demand sterling ruled around $4.85 1/2 and French francs around 24 1/2 cents.

State Reroutes Highway No. 15

undertaken this spring or early in the summer. Mayor Goodland stated, Wisconsin-ave. would then be paved the following summer.

Instead of following Foster st. into the city to S. Grand st. Highway 15 will enter the city limits over S. Cherry st. via the extension to this street which will be constructed this summer through the John Lynch farm. The new route will follow Cherry st. to W. College-ave. proceed north on Richmond st. and then turn east on Wisconsin-ave. and pick up the old route near the limits of the city.

The highway now enters the city on S. Oneida st. from Foster st. At the intersection of these two streets it turns north and follows Oneida st. through one of the city's most congested corners in the business district to North st. Here the route proceeds east on E. North st. to N. Rankin st., follows N. Rankin st. north for two blocks to E. Pacific st. turns east on E. Pacific st. to N. Lemmish, follows N. Lemmish north to E. Wisconsin-ave. where it again turns east toward Kaukauna.

The new route will eliminate many dangers which impede progress over the present course, according to Mayor Goodland. The steep hill and two sharp turns just south of the "flats" will be eliminated, as well as the necessity of crossing numerous railroad tracks through the "flats." It will also tend to speed up traffic over Highway 15, as much of the time lost going through the business district will be saved.

COULD NOT PUT ON HER SHOES

Mrs. Daugherty Was so Weak

In a little town of the Middle West, was a discouraged woman. For four months she had been in such poor health that she could not stoop to put on her own shoes. Unable to do her work, unable to go out of doors or enjoy a friendly chat with her neighbors, life seemed dark indeed to Mrs. Daugherty.

Then one day, a booklet was left at her front door. Idly she turned the pages. Soon she was reading with quickened interest. The little booklet was filled with letters from women in conditions similar to hers who had found better health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"I began taking the Vegetable Compound," Mrs. Daugherty writes, "and after I took the third bottle, I found relief. I am on my eleventh bottle and I don't have that trouble any more, and feel like a different woman. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to everyone I see who has trouble like mine. I am willing to answer any letters from women asking about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Ed. DAUGHERTY, 1308 Orchard Ave., Muscatine, Iowa.

Economic Condition of U. S. Is O. K. Money Interests Told

INFLATED STOCK FALLS

Administration Contemplates No Change in Policy Regarding Mergers

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright 1926 by Post Pub. Co.

Washington—As usual when things go wrong in the New York stock market, the number of inquiries as to conditions in Washington increases. In other words financial interests have gotten into the habit of looking to the national capital to learn if anything adverse is in the wind. For several days officials have been asked for their opinion on the future and particularly if they saw anything coming of a fundamental character which might affect the prosperity of the country.

The invariable answer has been that Washington sees nothing in prospect which could materially affect the economic condition of the country. So far as the New York stock market is concerned, officials here have long ceased to try to understand the reasons for the rise or fall of stocks, in fact they have begun to insist that there is too much significance attached to action taken in Washington as it relates to financial markets.

ADMINISTRATION ACTS OPENLY

It is admitted that the government has become more than ever a factor in the course of American business and foreign trade but on the other hand, it is contended that what the government does is fundamental and is visible to everybody. "The theory that the government has some hidden plan which might be sprung on an unsuspecting public and thus upset market values is not given serious consideration here any more. The policies of each administration so far as business is concerned have been taken a long time in the making and are to be evolved. This means ample opportunity for business to adjust itself to change.

There have been in recent weeks two or three things which have reflected a tendency on the part of the government to look closely into the character of proposed mergers or to investigate alleged instances of restraint of trade.

The interstate commerce commission and the department of justice have all played their part in examining these questions but it cannot be said that any fundamental change in policy is involved as the government has always insisted upon inquiring into possible violations of law. The fact that government agencies are scrutinizing closely various mergers is not to be taken as meaning that all mergers are banned.

Fundamentally the situation is not a bit different than it has always been—in other words each case stands on its own bottom. It is not believed here that the cautious attitude of the Washington government with respect to business combinations has had any material effect on stock market operations as a whole, and while Washington does not profess to know much about the fluctuations of markets, the authorities here informally express the opinion that natural reactions are inevitable in the cases of those companies whose stocks have been over-estimated in value.

PROSPERITY INCREASES

Basically government officials feel that the economic conditions of the country are unusually good. The fact that receipts from income taxes even under the reduced rates were larger than anybody estimated is offered as conclusive evidence that the United States is in much better condition than has been generally supposed. While prosperity will be more or less a political issue this year and is important for both political parties to know the truth about economic conditions, the fact remains that the administration here shows no signs of nervousness at all, indeed the conservative members of the administration are emphatic in their statements conditions are likely to grow better in the next few months. The use of the stimulus that has been in business as a result of the low rates of taxation.

OPPOSE RATES ASKED BY WESTERN RAILROAD

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—A brief in support of the motion of the western states to dismiss the application of western railroads for increased freight rates was filed Monday with the interstate commerce commission.

DAVIS, FREED OF BRIBE CHARGE, MAY SEEK OFFICE

JONATHAN M. DAVIS

Topeka, Kas.—(AP)—Cleared of all charges of attempting to sell pardons and paroles while he was Governor of Kansas, Jonathan M. Davis Monday refused to say definitely whether he would seek that office again in vindication of his name. He had indicated previously, however, that he would be a candidate for governor in the fall election unless some "suitable" democrat got into the race.

A district court jury late Saturday night acquitted the former governor and his son, Russell, of a charge of accepting $1,250 from Fred W. Pollman, a convicted forger, for a pardon.

EX-GOVERNOR DAVIS SUES FOR 5 MILLION

Topeka, Kas.—(AP)—Suits asking $5,000,000 damages were filed in Shawnee-co district court Monday by counsel for former Governor Jonathan M. Davis, alleging criminal libel and malicious prosecution. The defendants are Walter S. Dickey, publisher of the Kansas City Journal-Post, and a number of individuals.

The suits are an outgrowth of the trials of the ex-governor on charges of accepting bribes for paroles and pardons which followed the publication of a copyrighted article in the Kansas City Journal, Jan. 10, 1925, purporting to expose corruption of the pardon power by Governor Davis.

SUBMARINE CABLE BILL IS PASSED BY SENATE

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—The senate Monday passed with amendments the house bill to localize the submarine cable laid in the St. Louis river at the Spirit Lake Transfer railroad drawbridge between New Duluth, Minn., and Oliver, Wis., and authorized its use for lighting the latter place. The bill now goes into conference.

FIRE DESTROYS 612 VILLAGES IN EGYPT

Cairo, Egypt.—(AP)—Thirty-two persons are dead and 4,000 homeless from a fire which raged in the Tanta district from Saturday noon until Sunday morning. The fire destroyed 612 villages.

The recurrence of village fires is causing concern. The government is sending instructions to all local authorities on preventive measures.

Seek Help Of Science To Solve Omro Spirit Mystery

Oshkosh—Assistance of scientists will be sought by close friends of 11-year old Marie Maybourne, foster child of a farmer living in the near-by community of Omro, who have been baffled in their attempts to solve the origin of different voices, and other unexplained demonstrations surrounding the child the past three months.

Application of natural laws to the case by the Rev. William Grace, advisor of the family, who has assumed charge of the investigation, has failed to uncover a satisfactory explanation. He admitted Monday when he disclosed he will seek the assistance of psychologists.

HEAR WHISTLE

A shrill whistle is described by witnesses who signed sworn state to witnessing manifestations, as preceding the demonstrations. The first occurrence was Christmas day when the mother said she heard toys dropping on the floor when none could be seen. Subsequent events in four different houses where the child has been taken include, according to witnesses, the sound of familiar voices, moving of various objects, and taps that apparently emanated from the walls.

HOUSE BOARD STRADDLES 2 CANAL PLANS

Committee Favors New Survey of Proposed New York Canal Route

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—The house steering committee was called upon Monday to expedite consideration of a $35,000,000 waterways development program agreed upon Saturday by the rivers and harbors committee.

The agreement embracing 31 projects was reached only after an interrupted 9-hour statistical and near-fistic battle in the committee had threatened to continue a deadlock which would have meant action on omnibus river and harbors bill at this session of congress impossible.

The committee deferred final action on the two chief points of controversy by favoring compromise proposals for expenditure of $250,000 for a new survey of the proposed canal across New York state connecting the Great Lakes and the Atlantic ocean and $1,350,000 for navigation improvement of the Illinois river without touching upon the question water diversion from Lake Michigan.

Champions of these two projects, which contemplate deep waterways outlets from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico, and Atlantic ocean, claimed a victory.

MOVIE COMPANY THAT HIRED GRANGE FAILS

New York.—(AP)—The Arrow pictures corporation, the company which signed Red Grange, to appear in motion pictures after his sensational debut last year in professional football, was placed in the hands of equity receivers Monday on petition of Motion Pictures Today, Inc., a publication.

The receivership was consented to by the defendant corporation. The petition sets forth the fact that the company is a Virginia corporation with a capital of $650,000 that it is at present unable to meet its obligations, but that it has assets exceeding $800,000 and has upon the market film productions from which a profit may be expected. The corporation was organized in Sept., 1924.

The order appointing receivers directs them to continue the business for the benefit of creditors. When Red Grange was here last Dec. with the Chicago Bears professional football team, his manager, C. C. Pyle, announced that the young star had signed a contract with the Arrow corporation to appear in a motion picture and had received a check for $300,000 representing a flat guarantee for his first appearance on the screen.

SIGHT GONE, MOONSHINE VICTIM HANGS HIMSELF

Racine.—(AP)—Loss of his sight, which physicians say resulted from the drinking of moonshine liquor, prompted Henry Morgenson, 57, a retired merchant to hang himself while momentarily alone in his room. A warrant was issued some time ago for the arrest of the seller of the liquor, but the police have not been able to locate him.

DELAY JESSNER TRIAL WHEN JUROR BECOMES ILL

The hearing of Mrs. Amelia Jessner, wife of Rudolph, on a charge of disorderly conduct and drunkenness which was preferred against her March 9, was continued Monday until April 19.

Chapman Invites Three Scribes To See Him Hang

BULLETIN
Wethersfield, Conn.—(AP)—Gerald Chapman must hang for murder. The board of pardons Monday afternoon unanimously rejected his application for commutation of sentence to life imprisonment.

Wethersfield, Conn.—(AP)—Gerald Chapman, little outlaw who shot a policeman to death when surprised while robbing a safe, nearly two years ago, will be the first victim of Connecticut's new hanging machine shortly after midnight unless pleas for commutation succeed.

The machine yanks a man to the ceiling and then gives him an additional jerk as he comes down. Chapman will walk down the stairs at 6 o'clock Monday afternoon and take his place in a cell next to the gallows room to await his appointment with death. A new manila rope hangs from a pulley in the center of the ceiling of the death chamber. From this pulley the rope leads into another room and to another pulley. At the end of the rope is a heavy sand bag. A trigger in the side chamber releases the bag. A peep hole in the wall gives room for the executioner to see the signal given by the warden.

Permission for Chapman to appear personally before the board of pardons Monday in a plea for commutation was refused by Governor Trumbull, the chairman. The governor said he was taking no chances on Chapman escaping.

SEEK OVERTHROW OF BOLSHIEVKS

Congress of Russian Emigres Want Aid of League of Nations

Paris.—(AP)—An attempt at the overthrow of the Bolshievik rule in Russia through the league of nations and individual states of Russia is the object of a congress of Russian Emigres now in session here.

The movement is under the leadership of a former czarist premier, a former chief of the imperial general staff of Russia, and a former Marshal of the emperor's court. Notable among the absentees from the first sessions of the congress Sunday were the grand dukes, including Grand Duke Nicholas, who aims to occupy the throne of the czar. It has been felt that danger might lurk in their way should they appear notwithstanding the fact that the French government is taking all precautions and that the Russian imperialists themselves are wide awake.

Sunday's session of the congress, which was held in a palatial Parisian hotel, had as its basis the organization of Russian political exiles into a body which would be capable of treating with the league of nations and individual states for putting down the rule of the Soviet.

Machinists, chauffeurs, laborers and waiters—once high in the councils of imperialistic Russia—made up a portion of the congress.

DELAY JESSNER TRIAL WHEN JUROR BECOMES ILL

The hearing of Mrs. Amelia Jessner, wife of Rudolph, on a charge of disorderly conduct and drunkenness which was preferred against her March 9, was continued Monday until April 19.

23 KILLED IN HINDU-MOSLEM RIOT IN 3 DAYS

Religious Row Ends in Furious Fight—48 Victims in Hospital

London.—(AP)—Furious rioting between the Hindus and the Moslems for which three successive days kept northern Calcutta in turmoil had resulted up to late Sunday in 23 deaths and a large number of wounded. There were 48 victims in hospitals Monday. Unofficial records give a considerably higher number of casualties. Dispatches from Calcutta show that it is difficult to obtain reliable details of the disturbances.

The trouble is said to have started when a band in a Hindu procession persisted in playing outside a Mosque where a Moslem service was in progress. In the fighting that followed, clubs, knives and all kinds of hand weapons were brought into use. There was some shooting both in the streets and from roofs of nearby buildings.

ROUSTABOUTS JOIN FIGHT

The religious antagonists who started the row soon were joined by roughs who abound in the area, made up of squalid streets. Arson and looting soon became part of the promiscuous warfare. Several mosques and temples were attacked and desecrated. It is reported that at one time the police fired on the struggling mobs. One feature of the fighting was the refusal of the rival religionists to be swayed by their respective leaders, who made repeated attempts to control them. The worst of the outbreak was quelled Saturday by strengthening the police and the soldiery. The latter carried machine guns.

A proclamation against the assembling of more than five persons and enforcement of this order by arrests aided in the restoration of order Sunday. There was less fighting than during the previous days, and these disturbances occurred only when the troops were temporarily out of sight. The indications seemed to be that the ferment was ceasing.

BANDIT HANGS HIMSELF IN JAIL WHEN CAUGHT

Waterloo.—(AP)—A man who gave police the name of Conrad Felker, arrested here after he had attempted to hold up a gasoline filling station committed suicide by strangling himself in the city jail Sunday night.

Late Sunday night the police found the man's body suspended from the bars of his cell by his belt. According to the police Felker arrived here Sunday with an automobile which he said he had stolen at Janesville. He drove to a filling station and attacked the attendant with a hammer. The man dodged the blow and gave chase as Felker fled on foot. Police arrested the man near the outskirts of the city. He gave the name of Charles Deway when first questioned, but later said his true name is Conrad Felker.

NEW RICHMOND BLAST CAUSES $35,000 LOSS

New Richmond, Wis.—(AP)—An explosion in the basement of the Ideal Store here early Monday caused fire which did damage estimated at between $35,000 and $40,000.

One theory advanced is that the explosion resulted from an accumulation of gas in the furnace. The flames reached such huge proportions that a call was put in for aid from the St. Paul fire department.

When the St. Paul firemen reached Hudson, they were notified that the fire was under control and turned back.

President And Wife Hosts At Easter Egg Roll

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Care of state were thrust as far as possible in the background at the White House Monday to permit President and Mrs. Coolidge to act as hosts to the children of Washington for the annual Easter egg rolling on the sloping lawns south of the executive mansion. Preparations had been carefully made to care for thousands of the little participants in the annual games, the origin of which seems lost in obscurity along with other customs of the Easter season which have been observed for so many centuries in many countries and climes and now have so much significance to the Christian world.

The morning was reserved for children not more than 10 years old, each

STATE ORDERS VIADUCT HERE

Railroad Commission Orders Separation of E. Wisconsin-ave Grade Crossing

The viaduct on Wisconsin-ave at the intersection with the tracks of the Chicago and North Western railroad and the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power Co., was ordered constructed next summer by the railroad commission at its meeting Monday morning, according to a telegram received by Mayor John Goodland, Jr. Details of the order, including the percentage of the cost to the city, county and railroad companies are expected Tuesday.

Permission also was given the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power Co. to withdraw its petition for the right to discontinue its interurban service between Appleton and Neenah-Menasha, the railroad commission informed Mayor Goodland. The traction company presented its petition last fall, declaring that it was unable to continue the service because of competition from bus lines.

Plans for the construction of the Wisconsin-ave viaduct will be completed immediately and work of construction will be started as soon as possible. The structure will be completed next summer, according to Mayor Goodland.

BRUCE TAKES STAND

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—The opponents of Prohibition again marched on congress Monday in their first organized demonstration in several years.

At a hearing before a senate subcommittee the wet leaders marshaled a colorful array of arguments, ranging from a demand for modification of the prohibition amendment back to a petition for wine and beer.

The whole week had been set aside for hearing the wet and all of next week will be given over to the dry.

Before a jammed and agitated committee room Senator Bruce of Maryland, a Democrat, began the attack with a brief in support of his constitutional amendment for a partial local option by states, while Senator Edge, Republican, New Jersey, who

First Week of Hearing to Be Given Over to Anti-Drys

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—National prohibition became a football of debate Monday before a senate committee with wet senators demanding relief from conditions they pronounced intolerable and Assistant Secretary Andrews replying that much of the blame for present enforcement failure rests on congress itself.

Called to the stand by the wets at the beginning of a two weeks' hearing on pending modification measures the grand marshal of prohibition enforcement declared a lack of facilities had made it impossible to adequately administer the dry laws.

Asked directly whether adequate enforcement would be assured if Congress granted pending administration requests for more personnel, General Andrews replied that such a step would mean an improvement.

The treasury official was put on the stand after Senators Bruce, of Maryland, Democrat, and Edge, of New Jersey, a Republican, had demanded modification of the present laws and Julien Codman, of Boston, as general counsel for the wets, had argued that the least Congress should do was to authorize the making of beverages not intoxicating in fact.

The dramatic touches that are expected to give color to the hearings as they proceed were almost entirely lacking during the opening hours.

A whole regiment of photographers who had invaded the committee room took some preliminary shots at the outset.

Sensors Walsh, Democrat, Montana, the Teapot Dome prosecutor and chief reliance of the drys in their cross questioning of wet witnesses, excused himself soon after Bruce began his reading. It was the evident purpose of the prohibition managers to let the opposition develop its case without interference for the time being.

General Andrews explained in detail the distribution of the prohibition forces. "Twenty-five per cent," he said, were in the "permissive" division which handles permits and more should be put there to help prevent illegal diversion.

"I'm asking for 315 additional inspectors," he said, "and believe by using them in cutting out diversion work, we can bring about much better enforcement." "Do you think that will furnish satisfactory enforcement from your standpoint?" asked Codman.

"We can come pretty near stopping diversion," the witness replied. Collectors of customs, he continued, were asking for "more patrolmen than I could possibly supply." On the Canadian and Mexican borders, there are 280 men, and General Andrews said he wanted 500. "Can you stop smuggling on the borders with 500 men?"

"I can stop more with 500 men than with 280," Andrews explained that there was a bill pending to create a separate border patrol composed of 1,500 to 1,600 men.

"Could you stop smuggling across the border with that force?" "If you expect an individual coming across with a quart, yes, we would break up the traffic."

Smuggling from Canada and Mexico does not furnish the supply. Alcohol diversion, moonshining, and smuggling from the sea furnish the real sources of supply."

Andrews told the committee his force would concentrate on the bit violators.
